Gang Attempted to Rescue Prisoner—Freight Car Entered— Fine for Lightless Auto

Judge Thomas J. Enright announced this morning that he proposes to punish severely people who interfere with an officer who is making an arrest and that if his warning is not heeded, he will use drastic measures.

This statement was caused by trouble which occurred in the vicinity of Middlesex and Jackson streets, late Saturday night, when Patrolman John T. Kelley placed a man under arrest and a score or more of friends of the

BIG ALLIED DRIVE BEGINS

Attacks on Bulgaria From North and South—Germans Use Flaming Liquid in Attacks in France

Attacks on Bulgaria from both the north and the south apparently are in preparation by the entente armies in the Balkans.

British Take Offensive

"A movement from the south developed today in official news from Paris that the British had taken the offensive on the northeastern Macedonian front. They have crossed the Struma about 40 miles northeast of Saloniki in an advance toward the Bulgarian border, after strong artillery preparation and are attacking the villages of Nevelen and Karahabjes.

Beginning of Big Drive

At the beginning of the Macedonian operations last month, the Bulgarians pushed down rapidly from the border and occupied positions in Greek territory on the right flank of the allied defensive lines around Saloniki, pushing their advance to the Aegean coast with apparently little opposition. The present British thrust, which may mark the beginning of an important offensive with the object of placing Bulgaria between two fires, is directed along the main road to Seres, north of Tarnovo lake, the natural avenue of advance for an army pushing for the Bulgarian border.

Try to Encompass Bulgaria

Meanwhile, the effort to encompass Bulgaria is proceeding on the north with the reported arrival of Russian troops in strong force to take the offensive against the Bulgarians who have invaded the Rumanian province of Dobruja, occupying large areas and capturing the fortress of Turtukal and Silistra.

Fierce Attack by Germans

In northern France, the Germans are roundly beating the heavy blows which drove back their lines along several miles of the Somme front last week. Yesterday and last night, they struck hard at both the French and the British, but according to the entente reports today, they were unable to regain any of the ground lost.

Germans Used Flaming Liquid

In their attacks on the French, which occurred south of the Somme from Berry to below Chantreaux, the Germans used flaming liquid, assault following assault until five had been delivered. They suffered heavily in these fruitless attempts, Paris declares.

British Attacked at Ginchy

The British were attacked at Ginchy, the village captured by them last Saturday, but but the two advances made by the Germans as they did also attempt at British positions near Moquet farm and near Pozieres.

Italian Success

On the Treviso front, the Italians report the capture of a strategic Austrian position in the Leno valley and advances north of Monte Pasubio and in the upper Posina.

Russians Defeat Turks

In Persia, the Russians announce a victory over the Turkish forces, about 20 miles from the Turkish border. The Russians occupied the town of Bana and pursued the defeated Turkish forces.

25 KILLED WHEN WORLD'S GREATEST BRIDGE FELL

5000 Ton Span of Quebec Bridge Collapsed and Carried 90 Men Into St. Lawrence River—Many Injured, While Others Were Rescued

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 11.—The span of the world's greatest bridge collapsed into the St. Lawrence river today with a loss of life variously estimated. The company erecting the structure placed the number of deaths at upwards of 25, but H. P. Borden, a member of the Quebec bridge commission expressed the opinion that only three persons were lost. Several hours after the accident happened, at 10.30 o'clock, a special train into Quebec brought 20 men who had been injured.

Constructed On Pontoons

The span had been constructed on pontoons a few miles east of the bridge site and was towed into position immediately under the gap left in the anchor arms of the structure. Chains with links 30 inches in diameter, together with girders, were then attached to the span, and 8000 ton hydraulic jacks began the stupendous task of lifting the span into place.

This work could be accomplished only at the rate of a few feet an hour, and as the distance from the floor of the bridge to the level of the river is 150 feet the engineers had not counted on completing the operations until the end of this week or later. The bridge was to have been completed and ready for train service next spring, marking an important milestone in Canada's railway engineering.

Thousands Witnessed Collapse

The juggling of the 500 tons of steel attracted to the scene several thousand spectators including members of parliament and newspaper men gathered on vessels furnished by the Canadian government. Members of the Dominion cabinet witnessed the collapse from the deck of a government vessel while American tourists crowded hundreds of other boats of all classes. Prominent American authorities on bridge building and members of the Australian parliament returning home after visiting in Europe also were at the scene and river traffic for ocean-going steamships had been temporarily suspended.

Project Originated in 1903

The project interrupted today originated in 1903 when at the request of the Quebec city council a New York engineer submitted plans and estimates. Courage and capital were lacking, however, and it was not until 1957 that the scheme again was given serious consideration. The cantilever plan of bridge building was at that time becoming generally used and distinguished Canadian engineers obtained a charter at Ottawa and after many years of delay the building was begun, only to have it terminate disastrously in the collapse of the unfinished structure in 1907.

Canada's Federal Railway Department

then decided to reconstruct it and the undertaking was placed in the hands of a commission which included several noted American bridge builders, among them Ralph Modjeski of Chicago, and C. C. Schneider of New York.

3239 Feet From Shore to Shore

The plans for the bridge provided for a channel span longer than that of any existing trestle anywhere. Its length from shore to shore when completed would be 3239 feet and the space

ELECTION DAY IN MAINE

Big Vote is Expected—Leaders of Both Parties Confident of Vic- tory—National Policy the Issue

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11.—Voters of Maine to the number of 140,000 or more, went to the polls today to elect a governor, two United States senators, four representatives to the house of representatives, a state legislature and a state auditor.

National issues have been brought to the fore and party leaders brought hundreds of speakers into the state, including former Justice Hughes, former Vice President Fairbanks and members of President Wilson's cabinet to persuade the voters to line up with or against the national executive and the majority in congress.

Maine, however, is normally republican, and the democratic leaders insisted that something more than a scant republican victory would be required to constitute a repudiation of the administration while a democratic plurality, however small, would be accepted by them as an endorsement.

Party leaders took a quiet at the sky before breakfast and smiled. The heavens were blue which meant, they figured, a big vote equally desired by both sides.

A governor, auditor, four congressmen, two United States senators and a state legislature were to be chosen. The state officers are now democratic and that party has one of the two seats in the United States senate and one of the four seats in the national house of representatives.

In 1914, the progressives cast 18,226 votes for governor. How their vote would split today was a matter of dispute. The variability of the vote in Maine is unusual. The total vote cast in 1880 was greater by 6399 than the total 34 years later. In 1896, E. L. Dwyer, republican, was elected governor by a plurality of 48,246. Two years ago, Gov. Oakley C. Curtis, democrat, won by 3155.

The polls opened at 6 o'clock and must close not later than five. Many of the returns will be slow, as some towns and plantations are without telegraphic or telephonic communication with the outside. However, the results should be indicated before midnight.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENING BRINGS 1616 PUPILS

All Examined for Infantile Paralysis by Corps of Doctors—No Sign of Disease

Sixteen hundred and sixteen students reported at the Lowell high school at 8.30 o'clock this morning when the doors opened for the 1916-17 term. This number is nearly as large as the names on the register but there is always a large number of absentees on the first day of school. It is not believed by the school authorities that the infantile paralysis epidemic had any bearing on keeping the pupils at home.

At least 250 more students are expected within the next few days which will make an enrollment of nearly 1900, probably the largest in the history of the school.

Seventy-five of the 1616 boys and girls examined by 10 physicians and four school nurses were sent home to remain for at least a few days until they were further examined. It was stated that none of the pupils showed symptoms of anything serious but it was thought advisable to keep them from the school rooms in order to prevent any danger. High temperatures were the cause in many cases, it was said. The physicians occupied in examining the students were: Drs. C. S. Baker, Winifred N. Devine, Nathan Pulsifer, J. A. Mehan, E. O. Tabor, J. J. Cassidy, J. F. Boyle, G. O. Lavalee, C. M. Roughan and W. G. Eaton.

The school nurses were: Melda McDonald, Marguerite O'Dwyer and Miss Pickard and Supervisor Elyonne Holland.

There were nearly 650 in this year's freshman class. Besides the high school building and the Paige street annex, two rooms in the Kirk street primary school are being used and another

GENERAL STRIKE OF 750,000 MEN IS THREATENED

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—With the leaders of 750,000 labor men of Greater New York and vicinity threatening sympathetic strikes, traffic on the subway and elevated lines in Manhattan and the Bronx impeded and the surface system in those two boroughs and Westchester county virtually tied up, the general strike situation assumed a more serious aspect today.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor declined to discuss the probability of a general strike but other union leaders asserted that if necessary 50,000 union men could be called out within six hours.

ALLEGED DISORDERLY HOUSE

A young woman giving her residence as Lowell was arrested in a raid at and alleged disorderly house in Framingham early yesterday. The house was maintained by Almond King, who is being held accused of illegally keeping liquor. The girl and two others are charged with being idle and disorderly persons.

AMBULANCE WAS KEPT BUSY THIS MORNING

The ambulance was kept busy this morning, responding to calls. At 2.35 o'clock, a telephone came from the Hamilton Mfg. Co., where Maria Logg, residing at 527 Dutton street, had suffered an injury to her right side as a result of being struck by a shuttle. She was taken to the Lowell hospital, where she received treatment.

At ten o'clock, the ambulance was called to 26 South Whipple street, to remove Christina Hovey, a child, to the Lowell General hospital. The little one was preparing water to blow soap bubbles when she cut her hand.

At 10.35, Manuel Monty, employed by the Stone & Webster Co., was taken from the station of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. in Perry street, having suffered an injury to his head. He was removed to St. John's hospital.

T. Dziugish, while at work at the Saco-Lowell plant this morning, suffered an injury to one of the fingers of his right hand. He was removed in the ambulance to the Lowell hospital.

CITY HALL NOTES

A special meeting of the members of the municipal council was held this forenoon and the only business transacted was the approval of the monthly bill.

Mayor O'Donnell is in receipt of a letter from W. T. S. Bartlett, advocating that the Dummer street extension be named "Jackson Mall" in honor of Patrick T. Jackson, one of the founders of the city of Lowell and the man who built the Boston & Lowell railroad.

REPLY TO HUGHES' ATTACK ON SHIP PURCHASE LAW

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Reply is made to Candidate Hughes' attack on the ship purchase law in his Maine speeches in the Democratic National textbook, released for publication yesterday.

"Under the American ship registry act of 1914, which removed the restriction as to the country on a ship's construction," says the textbook, "there have been added to American registry in overseas commerce 153 vessels of 517,151 gross tons, which now carry American commerce under the American flag."

"On July 1, 1916, American registry of ocean merchantmen, covered in round numbers, 2,100,000 vessel tons, as compared with 930,000 on the same date in 1912—an increase of 126 per cent in four years time."

"On July 1, moreover, there were building in American shipyards steel merchantmen of 1,225,000 tons, as compared with 211,000 tons on the same date in 1912. In this case, the increase is over 560 per cent. Prospects of United States shipbuilding are bright. American shipyards are now building to the limit."

"As against 1,225,000 steel tonnage under construction in American yards on July 1, the record construction of Germany was 220,000 in 1914; while the United Kingdom has recorded a greater tonnage up to 1,400,000 tons, in construction last year was 650,510 tons."

"The United States in 1916 stands, for the first time in its history, the foremost ship-building country in the world."

Ships Practical Means

The textbook article shows that the ship purchase act provides as practical means of aiding American merchant shipping and that the old guard republican counter proposal is the old one of giving government subsidies to favored corporations. That now is the reactionary and discredited plan espoused by Candidate Hughes.

There is no achievement of which the Democratic party may boast with great justification than the enactment of the shipping law which President Wilson and a democratic congress has given the country. The textbook says: "In spite of the opposition and power of the shipping trust and in spite of the indefensible obstruction of the republican party, controlled and entangled by special interests pleading for subsidies, this military preparedness creating an American merchant marine in time of peace and a naval auxiliary in time of war. It is the first great practical step of any administration to restore the American flag to the seas in the interest of the people of the United States and of all legitimate business of the country."

"It will permit the development of a permanent constructive merchant marine policy conferring incalculable benefits not only upon our farmers, merchants, manufacturers and producers, but upon our ship owners and investors as well."

Free Shipping

"By the creation of a shipboard for the regulation of ocean carriers in the interest of American shippers, the law will release our foreign commerce from the grip of shipping combinations, and the control and domination of foreign flags. It will give the farmers and manufacturers of the United States the benefit of reasonable ocean freight rates. And will free them of the notorious discriminations and injustices to which they have been subjected during all the years that the people of the United States have been clamoring for an American merchant marine."

"True to its record as the party of special privilege, the only alternate offered by the republican party for this construction measure was a plea for ship subsidies. To take the people's money and give it outright to the ship owners with the longest pull and the strongest pull purely for their personal profit and enrichment, without the remotest control by the government or the slightest consideration of our shippers, was the plan."

"The shipping act is in the constructive measure, which says to every American shipper on the high seas: 'The United States government and the mobilized commercial forces of America are behind you with a navigation system and cargoes to sea that you carry the commerce of America with success to your company and honor to your country.'"

Old Plan Discredited

"Against the constructive program for the restoration of the American merchant marine, as now effectively developed by President Wilson and a democratic congress, the republican platform of Hughes and Fairbanks offers the old discredited plan of ship subsidy and bounties."

"Every practical shipper and shipowner knows that, as against the aid of present ocean rates a mail subsidy is a dead letter. The vessels receiving subsidies from the belligerent nations are today withdrawn from merchant service and drafted for war purposes. Merchant vessels of neutral countries desert their subsidized mail routes for the profits of Atlantic commerce."

15,000 ODD FELLOWS IN PARADE IN BOSTON

THOUSANDS CHEER THEM ON THREE MILE MARCH AND AT OPEN AIR SERVICE

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Under sunny skies, and with ideal weather, while thousands of spectators cheered and applauded, 15,000 Massachusetts Odd Fellows marched through Boston streets yesterday afternoon, and later took part in a most impressive, monster open-air service at Fenway park, the whole event marking the annual church day of the Triple Link league, I.O.O.F.

It was the most spectacular, successful, and the largest public event ever held by the Odd Fellows of this state, in the opinion of many of those present. The outstanding feature was the flag parade, in which color bearers from 15 lodges from all parts of the state marched, and carried aloft the flag of the United States, and then stood at attention in one long straight line, while the assembled thousands in the grand stand stood uncovered and thundered forth the "Star Spangled Banner." In unison with the band of 60 pieces.

KEEP THE CITY CLEAN

And Keep Rats Away—Rodents Will Not Come Where There is No Food to be Found

It is a remarkable fact, confirmed by many observations, that many physicians who have devoted considerable labor to the study of a particular disease have themselves died of that disease. One of the most interesting examples is that of John Daniel Major, born August 15, 1834, in Breslau, a physician and naturalist of no mean ability. Eaten early by the wanderlust, he studied at Wittenberg, took courses at many of the schools in Germany, and finally went to Italy where he received the degree of doctor of medicine at Padua in 1862. Returning to his own country, he resided for a short time in Silesia, and in 1861 married at Wittenberg, Margaret Bonthuy, a daughter of the celebrated surgeon.

The following year his young wife was stricken with plague and died after an illness of eight days. Distracted by his loss, Major wandered up and down Europe studying plague wherever he found it in the hope that he might discover a cure for the disease which had bereaved him. Spain, Germany, France and Russia were visited by him. He resided in 1865 in Kiel, where he was made professor of botany and the director of the botanical gardens. He made frequent voyages, however, always in quest of the remedy for plague. Finally in 1868, he was called to Stockholm to treat the queen, Charles the Eleventh, then ill with the plague. But before he could render her any service, he contracted the disease and died on the third of August.

He had enormous numbers of plague bacilli in his blood. The blood is taken by the flea which, leaving the sick rat, seeks refuge and sustenance on the body of a human being to whom it transfers the infection. Since plague is a disease of rodents and since it is carried from sick rodents to well men by rodent fleas, safety from the disease lies in the exclusion of rodents, not only exclusion from the habitation of man but also from the ports and cities of the world. Those who dwell in rat-proof surroundings take no plague. Not only should man dwell in rat-proof surroundings, but he should also live in rat-free surroundings. The day is past when the rodent served a useful purpose as the unpaid city scavenger. Rats will not come where there is no food for them. Mysterious cleanliness may be regarded as a partial insurance against plague. The prayer that no plague come nigh our dwelling is best answered, however, by rat-proofing the habitations of men. Modern sanitary science has evolved a simple and efficient method of exterminating the pest which walks in darkness and strikes at noonday, and the U. S. public health service has put this knowledge into practical operation and thus speedily eradicated plague wherever it has appeared in the United States.

GREEK GETTING HELD

The first annual outing under the auspices of the Young Greek Men's Progressive union was held yesterday at the Lakeside farm in Ayer and was attended by about 150 people. The party left their quarters in the Associate building at 10.30 a. m. and upon arriving at the grounds, enjoyed a brief program of sports. Dinner was served in the afternoon and athletic events were held. The committee in charge of the general arrangements included John Maropoulos, president; John Dravacos, vice president; C. Geronditis, secretary; G. Gratis, treasurer; M. Thernistocleous, director; and John Vlahos, president of the Greek-American association.

THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY

St. Mark's Parish held lawn party on the Church grounds—over 5000 Attended

The celebration in connection with the tenth anniversary of the founding of St. Mark's parish in South Lowell, was brought to a close last evening, and it is believed that over 5000 people attended the event, which was in the form of a lawn party on the church grounds. The fête started Saturday noon and was brought to a close last evening.

Yesterday morning a solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Antoine Anyot, O.M.I., founder of the parish, he being assisted by Rev. Bro. Hill, O.M.I., both of Tewksbury as deacon and sub-deacon. Rev. Julian Racette, O.M.I., the present pastor of the parish, was master of ceremonies, while the sermon was given by Rev. Dr. J. H. Racette, O.M.I., pastor of St. Joseph's.

In the afternoon on the church grounds a delightful concert was given by the A. G. Cadets Brass band, while musical numbers were also given in the evening. The affair was a great success and reflected much credit upon the organizers, who were as follows:

Restaurant chairman, Mrs. Alexis J. Coutin; Mrs. Eugene Lacombe; Mrs. Arthur Beauchamp; Mrs. Philippe Nadeau; Mrs. Honore Rousseau; Mrs. Joseph Massierette; Mrs. George Gelleneau; Mrs. Florida Boudreau; Miss Clara Lacombe and others; publicity, Arthur Beauchamp and Joseph A. Plante; food, Beauchamp and Joseph A. Plante; refreshments, Mrs. P. Samson; Misses Elsie Brun, Ora Brun and Mary Wronn; postoffice, Chairman, Miss Yvonne Gendreau; Misses Agnes Masse, Sarah Gendreau and Rose Nadeau; ice cream, Chairman, Misses Marie Nadeau; Misses Lena Lebel, Bertha Nadeau and A. Marlon; refreshments, Mrs. Joseph Coutin; Mrs. Alfred Rodriguez; Mrs. Hermenegilde Brun and others; popularity contests, Chairman, Miss A. Brun; Misses Madeleine Riopelle and Mary Wadron; bonbons, Chairman, Mrs. Alfred Rodriguez; Mrs. Elsie Gendreau; Mrs. A. Marlon; Mrs. J. V. Velleille; Mrs. Dupras; Mrs. S. Dumont; and Mrs. A. C. S. CARTRIDGE EMPLOYEES

Those of South Lowell Plant Held Outing at Camp Texas Up River Saturday Afternoon

The overseers and foremen of the South Lowell plant of the United States Cartridge Co. held an outing at Camp Texas on the upper Merrimack river Saturday afternoon which proved to be a very successful affair. The party left the city shortly after noon in automobiles and upon arriving at the camp enjoyed a delightful dinner.

During the afternoon sports were held and the baseball match between the married and single men proved to be the stellar event of the day, the single men winning by a score of 21 to 10.

Following the ball game lively races were held which were won as follows: 100 yard dash, Mr. Hamblet, inspection department; potato race, Edward Burns, testing department; three-legged race, Messrs. Bailey and Vail; ball throwing contest, Mr. Nisour, transportation department. Then came the swimming and boating events. Edward Sweeney and Frank Ward of the mail service department carried off all the honors in these events.

After a buffet luncheon at 6 o'clock the return was made to the city, everybody taking in the "best ever."

The guests of the afternoon were William Robinson and C. S. Sibley of the Lawrence street plant; S. B. Horton of the South Lowell division and Lieut. Whelan and Col. Valdivia of the British and Russian inspection department.

The following department heads were responsible for the success of the affair: Testing department, James Burns; Edward Burns, Mr. Murphy; inspection department, Messrs. Connors, Handley, Grady, Hamblet; leading department, Messrs. Humphreys, Galvin and Charles; stock department, Messrs. Boynton, Miner, Hennessy, and others.

Flannery, Cusack, Rodgers; mail service department, Messrs. Sweeney and Ward.

EFFORTS TO SAVE HIS CHUM ARE FUTILE

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 11.—Ernest F. Mattison of Providence, 22 years old, lost his life in a six-hour battle with a heavy sea and a gale in Cape Cod bay, off Ship's Pond village, below Manomet, early yesterday morning, and Charles A. Allen of Edgewood, R. I., his companion, with whom he was trying to reach shore after their outboard capsized, barely succeeded in saving himself. Allen's heroic effort to save Mattison's life nearly cost him his own.

Companion Collapses

Upon reaching safely Allen collapsed on shore and lay unconscious about an hour.

Finally he regained consciousness, and crawled 200 yards on his hands and knees to the house of Benjamin W. Hatch, where he was taken in and a physician called. He became unconscious again immediately, but was restored within a few minutes and told of his experience.

Meanwhile Mattison's body had been found 150 feet from shore by a fisherman.

During the summer Mattison and Allen had been at Annisquam beach, near Gloucester, as swimming instructors for the summer residents there. They left there Saturday in an 18-foot outboard motor launch, intending to sail through the Cape Cod canal. Early in the evening a brisk wind came up from the northwest and developed into a gale. When about five miles off Ship's Pond village, about 9 o'clock Saturday night, the craft was caught in the trough of the sea and capsized.

The two succeeded in getting back to the sinking craft and thought out a plan to save themselves. The wind was increasing in force and the waves were breaking over them. They could see a light on shore and decided to try to swim it. They pulled out the outboard motor, struggling against the sea for hours Mattison began to lose his strength.

Allen realized that Mattison was faltering and so he lashed him to the mast and began to tow him to shore. Allen said that when he got Mattison about 150 yards from the shore he turned and told him to keep up his courage as they were almost safe. He towed the mast to shore and then collapsed, arousing some time later and crawling to the steps of Mr. Hatch's house where he again lost consciousness.

Dr. E. D. Hill, medical examiner, was the physician called. Allen regained consciousness and told the story. Robert Richardson, who lives near the shore, was walking along the shore and saw the sail and mast about 150 feet off shore, it evidently having been washed out again by the tide. He secured a dory and went out and found the body fastened to the mast. Richardson towed it to shore and took the body to his barn, where Dr. Hill examined it and pronounced death due to exhaustion and heart failure, but not drowning, as no water was found in the lungs.

The body was taken to Providence last night. Allen's family came here and took him back to Edgewood by automobile.

Telling of the latter part of the tragedy, Allen said:

"It was slow and exhausting work. Mattison complained after a long time that he was all in and could go no farther. He seemed to lose his senses."

Fought to Save Chum

"I realized that the only chance was to tow him to the mast so that I could tow him in. It was dark and hard work, but at last I succeeded. I was nearly exhausted, but I had to try. I would fight it out to a finish and save Mattison."

"I kept trying to cheer him up and he made faint replies for a while, but kept complaining that he was going to give up. When we got close to shore, I should say about 150 yards or so, I turned around and told him to cheer up for we were nearly there. I got no answer, but didn't think he was dead. I kept on the shore and dragged the mast up as far as I could. I remember falling down and woke up with the water rushing over me.

"I saw the light again and crawled to the steps. That is all I remember until I came to in bed here. When we started from the boat to swim ashore we thought we could make it, as we could swim well. We thought we'd better take the mast along in case we needed to rest. The water was very rough, the wind was blowing against us, and the weather was bitter cold. It was an awful experience."

Boston Church Lady Gives Interesting Testimonial for New Stomach Remedy

To all who suffer with the symptoms of a deranged stomach, liver or kidney trouble or rheumatism, immediate relief is at hand through the use of the new vegetable preparation Plant Juice. Nothing that science has put forth from the laboratory of Nature has so quickly sprang into world-wide fame and prominence as has this preparation. Wherever introduced it has taken immediate hold on the public and brought forth words of praise from people in all stations of life. It does all that is claimed for it and more, as is verified by the statements of people living in your own home.

"Possibly your next door neighbor has proven that this notable remedy has been remarkably successful as a germ destroyer, a tissue builder, and a builder-up of wasted organs. For instance, the signed statement of Mrs. Mary A. Linderman, who lives at No. 37 Dawford street, Jamaica Plain, and is a well known lady in Lowell. She has hosts of friends, having been a member of a large church in Boston for over 50 years. She stated:

"For the last 15 years I have suffered from stomach trouble, which took the form of indigestion and dyspepsia. After eating, my food would ferment and cause gas with a heavy, bloated condition in the pit of my stomach. I had headaches, dizzy spells, coated tongue and a constant burning sensation in my throat. Bad pains around my heart and could not keep any solid food in my stomach. I was so weak, so had to live on tea and toast. My liver was torpid, kidneys were affected, and I felt all run down. I had tried numerous medicines, but got none until I started to take your Plant Juice, and that seemed to give me benefit from the first dose and found my stomach up in fine shape. I can now eat any kind of food without distress, sleep well at night, have no more trouble with my liver or kidneys, and can truthfully say that Plant Juice has cured me. All the people at home are taking Plant Juice and think it is a great system builder."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, The Druggists, in Merrimack square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

SCHOOL ANNOUNCEMENTS IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

NOTES OF YESTERDAY'S SERVICES—HOLY NAME SOCIETIES ACTIVE—OTHER ITEMS

Special announcements regarding the opening of the parochial schools were made by the pastors of the various Catholic churches yesterday and in each instance the parents were urged to send their children in order to ensure for them the benefits of a religious training. Owing to the epidemic of infantile paralysis, the opening of the parochial schools has been postponed in most cases and special precautions have been taken in the schools that have opened today. There were announcements in most of the churches also regarding the parish societies, the fall season being reflected in new activities.

St. Patrick's

The parochial schools of St. Patrick's parish opened this morning. Mass was celebrated for the children at 8 o'clock at the conclusion of which they were examined by the physicians that have been assigned for the purpose by the city. Rev. Bro. O'Connell, superior of the Xaverian brothers and principal of the school, reports that an unusually large number of boys have enrolled for the coming year.

On Tuesday evening, the regular meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held at the conclusion of the blessed sacrament. The members of the sodality received communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday, which was celebrated by Right Rev. William O'Brien, P.R., who was assisted in giving communion by Rev. J. J. Kerrigan.

St. Michael's

The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish held its opening meeting of the season yesterday. The members attended communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass and the attendance was such as to fill the body of the church. Last evening at 6:30, the society proceeded to the hall and transacted business for the coming year. President Charles Burns was elected to represent St. Michael's branch at the meeting to be held tomorrow evening in preparation for Columbus day. The president and Rev. Fr. Mullin, spiritual director, complimented the men on their fine showing and spoke with enthusiasm of the outlook for the coming season. It is planned to have several social events in the near future.

It was announced that the parochial schools would be opened this morning and the parents were urged to send their children for religious instruction.

St. Peter's

Members of the married ladies' sodality received communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's yesterday. Rev. D. J. Kellher, P.D., was celebrant. It was announced that the parochial schools of the parish will be opened next Thursday. Mass will be celebrated by the pastor and all of the children have been requested to attend before taking up their school has enrolled for the coming year.

Immaculate Conception

The parochial schools of the Immaculate Conception church will open next Monday, Sept. 15. Announcement to this effect was made by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence E. Tighe, O.M.I., at all of the masses yesterday, and he took occasion to speak in detail the advantages of a Catholic education and of the schools of the parish in particular. Yesterday was communion day for the Holy Name society and the Immaculate Conception sodality, and the attendance at the 7:30 o'clock mass was unusually large. The pastor celebrated the mass and he was assisted in giving communion by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I.

Sacred Heart

The grammar grades of the parochial schools of the Sacred Heart parish opened this morning with a full attendance. Mass of the Holy Ghost was celebrated at 8 by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., the pastor, with the children of all grades in attendance. When the required physical examination of the children has been completed, the primary grades will open.

St. Columba's

The regular winter schedule of services at St. Columba's church will go into effect immediately, as announced yesterday by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. At the 6:30 o'clock mass, the members of the Holy Name society received communion. The parish mass was celebrated by Rev. T. W. Buckley and he also gave benediction at the evening services. The regular session of the Sunday school was started yesterday.

Oblate Missions

Several Oblate Fathers from Lowell churches have been given mission assignments that will take them considerable distances in the near future.

Rev. J. C. Duffy, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y., Rev. P. J. Phelan, O.M.I., and Rev. James McCarroll, O.M.I., will leave for the diocese of Helena, Mont., to conduct a series of missions that will start on Oct. 1 and continue through till June 1.

Rev. James T. McDermott, O.M.I., and Rev. Charles Fallon, O.M.I., started a two weeks' mission yesterday at the Sacred Heart church, Weymouth.

Held Union Service At

CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

KIRK STREET CHURCH WORSHIPS AT METHODIST ON PAIGE STREET

The first union service of the Kirk Street Congregational church and the Central M. E. church was held yesterday morning with a congregation that filled the church to its capacity. The service was conducted by Rev. George M. Ward, D.D., assisted by

Rev. Samuel Dupertuis.

Dr. Ward announced that the entire expense of the improvements had been met from funds in the hands of the deacons, leaving the $30,000 received from the sale of the other church intact. The Kirk Street society, he said, stood pledged to a union with other Congregational churches when, in God's good time, it would be worked out, and that in the meantime its members were deeply grateful to their Methodist brethren for coming to their assistance in offering a temporary church home, under conditions that he believed would prove to the spiritual advantage of both parishes. He also announced that the supply committee has engaged Rev. William F. English of Salem to fill the pulpit for the coming year. He will begin his duties Sept. 24.

After the Vacation

The Sunday services at the First Unitarian church resumed yesterday with the pastor, Rev. Alfred H. Hussey, preaching on the subject, "Beginning Again." His text was from Revelations: "And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new."

In the course of his remarks he spoke of the vacation season thus: "The ending of the summer season has its trials. It is hard for us to give up the summer's ease. The people who every September through the trains and steamboats on the way to town cast many a longing, lingering look behind. But the work of the world has to be done. Work, play, the time to which the world boasts time. We are all of us reapers together with God, in the construction of his kingdom among men. Therefore the time is not the season for vain regrets. September bids us turn squarely around and face forward."

Now is the time for us to make new resolutions and to carry them out; to renovate our characters, and to make the coming winter, for ourselves, our church and our town, the best ever known. It is the time for forgetting old grudges and former disagreements. The time is ripe for searching our hearts, for taking as it were an account of moral stock, so far as the contents of our lives are concerned. It is the season for a moral and spiritual house cleaning, before we plunge into the business and pleasure that shall fill our lives in the coming months.

URGED TO WEIGH BREAD

U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY, STATES ATTORNEY AND CITY COUNCIL TO INVESTIGATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Housewives of Chicago were today urged to weigh the bread they buy and to assist the city department of weights and measures in watching bakers for violations of the anti-trust laws and the ordinances against short weights.

The announcement by a leading baking concern Saturday that for several days it had been cutting down the weight of its five-cent loaf of bread was responsible for the request. The United States district attorney, the state's attorney and the city council have already started investigations into the bakery situation.

amount of timber which had been piled in the alleyway between the building where the fire was and another. This fire started in a pile of lathes and gave the fire fighters considerable trouble to get at the blaze, but owing to the number of pieces of apparatus on hand, the blaze was extinguished before much damage had been done.

The owner of this property had been warned about the vicinity of the building being blocked with timber and other obstructions, and Saturday night, Chief Saunders notified Mr. Sakelarios that if the obstructions were not removed within 48 hours he would bring him into court. The owner will be slight.

er of the building claimed that the fire started in lathes which had been taken from the buildings torn down for the Dummer street extension and stored in the cellar.

While the firemen were battling with the flames in Market street, an alarm was sounded from box 6 for a cellar fire in the large wooden building at the corner of First street and Bridge street, owned by the J. M. G. Parker estate. The fire started directly under the stove occupied by the Centralville Fruit Co. and conducted by Christos Cantelaris. This fire, however, was discovered before it had gained much headway and the loss will be slight.

Owing to the lines being laid across Bridge street, electric car traffic was tied up for about twenty minutes.

Fred C. Church held the insurance on the dwelling owned by Geo. P. White at No. Chelmsford, damaged by fire Saturday night, also the A. W. Dows Co. Merrimack square, awning fire, Sunday, and dwelling owned by J. D. Finnegan, 732 Lawrence street, damaged by fire Sunday.

THREE FIRE ALARMS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

FIREMEN CALLED FROM NEARLY ALL STATIONS TO THE CENTRE OF THE CITY

Three bell alarms for fire were sounded within a short space of time Saturday night. Firemen and apparatus from practically every station in the city were brought to the centre of the city, owing to the fact that alarms were sounded before the real cause for the previous fire and apparatus which generally does not respond well for the purposes of "coverings" up. All three fires were in cellars and one especially was of a mysterious origin.

The number of cellar fires of late has caused considerable comment and Chief Saunders of the fire department has asked the state police to make an investigation of some recent fires, especially one of the three which took place Saturday night.

It was 6:43 o'clock when an alarm from box 113 was sounded and when the department arrived in Suffolk street, there was a lively blaze in the cellar of a building owned by Christos Chlopelas. The building is one of three large tenement blocks located near the corner of Broadway and the fire had gained such headway that it was necessary to lay four lines of hose and several chemical fires in order to extinguish the flames. The blaze had its inception in a pile of kindling wood in the cellar and had reached such proportions before being discovered that the firemen had a task on their hands in order to confine the fire to the cellar. The smoke poured through the street in dense volumes and hundreds of persons were attracted and the police had their hands full in keeping the crowd back so that it would not interfere with the work of the firemen.

At 7:22, while some of the apparatus was on its way home and the other was limbering up in Suffolk street, an alarm came from box 15 for a fire in the cellar of the building at 350-354 Market street, owned by D. A. Sakelarios. This fire had also gained considerable headway and the progress of the firemen was impeded by the large

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS SPREADING IN MASS.

TWENTY-FIVE CASES DEVELOPED OVER SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Twenty-five cases of infantile paralysis developed over Saturday and Sunday were reported today at the state department of health, making a total of 172 for September. Seven were reported from Boston.

23 DEATHS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Twenty-three deaths from infantile paralysis in this city occurred during the 48 hours ending at 10 a. m. today, according to a department of health bulletin. This brings the total of fatalities up to 2123 since the inception of the epidemic. Today's bulletin shows that 10 new cases have been discovered.

PERSONALS

Harold H. Stratton of Salem street has returned to his home after an enjoyable vacation with relatives and friends in Haverhill, Mass., N. Y., and Burlington, Vt.

Miss Nellie Harwood of Collinsville has returned from a pleasant vacation spent at the beach.

Mrs. C. O. Pritchard and children of 58 Lane street have returned from a vacation spent in Skowhegan, Me.

Mrs. Ray Ferguson of Grand street, and Mrs. George Marshall of Gorham street, will spend the remainder of the month at Morell, Prince Edward Isle.

Walter H. Emmott, manager of the Cherry & Webb Crock and Suit store, is in New York selecting goods of the latest design.

Frederick J. Nevery, assistant manager of the Cherry & Webb Crock and Suit store, has returned from a two weeks vacation spent in New York and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bernier of Gorham street have returned home after spending the summer at their cottage at Salisbury beach.

THROWN UNDER AUTO

Mr. and Mrs. Tyrrell have narrow escape in auto mishap on Fairmount street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Tyrrell of 315 Fairmount street and a lady passenger had a narrow escape from being seriously injured late Saturday afternoon when the machine in which they were riding turned turtle on Fairmount street. Mr. Tyrrell was pinned beneath the car, but fortunately escaped with a few scratches on his face and head. The women were only slightly bruised.

The slow rate of speed at which Mr. Tyrrell was driving is responsible for the fact that no one was seriously hurt. The car was traveling about an hour of the time. The women were thrown away from the machine but Mr. Tyrrell, who was held by the wheel, was caught underneath. Residents of the vicinity succeeded in lifting the car and he was quickly extricated.

MATRIMONIAL

Ralph Lewis Sheppard and Miss Ruby Colman Hull were married late Saturday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George St. Bull, 15 Oakland street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. H. A. Barker, pastor of the Eliot Congregational church. The bride wore white with a train and a large veil, and was escorted by her father. The groom wore a tuxedo and was escorted by his best man, Mr. H. H. Hull, who was attired in a gray suit. The ceremony was a quiet one and was attended by a few relatives and friends. The couple will make their home at 23 Grace street.

Miss—Killed

Ann B. Olsen and Miss Edith Kibben, both of this city, were married Saturday in Nashua, N. H. by Rev. J. Bruce Gilman of the First Baptist church of Nashua.

Cunningham—Doyle

Walter J. Cunningham and Miss Marion Doyle, two popular young residents of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. Patrick's rectory. Rev. Fr. Callahan officiating. The bride was Miss Lillian Smith while the best man was Mr. Stephen Doyle, Jr. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white with a long train and a large veil. The ceremony was a quiet one and was attended by a few relatives and friends. The couple will make their home at 23 Grace street.

street in order to avoid the crowd, but a number of men followed and were making it lively for the officer when Officer Briggs put in an appearance and assisted. When the patrol arrived, more resistance was offered and as a result Auguste Taxerira, Joseph Gomez and Manuel Agueira were also placed under arrest. When arraigned in court this morning, Jardin was fined $5 and the other three were each fined $15.

Larceny From Department Store

Saturday afternoon, Inspector Walsh and Sergeant Petrie were called to the store of the A. G. Pollard and placed Catherine Spedley under arrest, it being alleged that she stole a pair of shoes valued at $1. When brought before the court this morning, she entered a plea of not guilty and at her request the case was continued until Thursday.

Later in the afternoon, Court Officer Philip Dwyer was called to the Pollard store and placed Mary Dumas under arrest, she having stolen 20 yards of lace. In court this morning, she admitted her guilt and was ordered to pay a fine of $12.

Broke Into Freight Car

Bernard Stott and Frank Marsh were charged with breaking and entering a freight car of the Boston & Maine railroad and the larceny therefrom of one lubricator valued at $15, two inspectors of the value of $15 and ten valves. Marsh was also charged with drunkenness. Each entered a plea of guilty and at the request of the government, the cases were continued until Saturday.

Judge Saw Crap Shooters

Edward P. Hart was arrested by Patrolman Bradley on the North common last night, the latter breaking up a game of craps which was going on in the bandstand. There were eight present and the only one that the officer was able to get was Hart. He denied that he was playing, but according to the officer, the defendant claimed that a large amount of money which was found belonged to him. Judge Enright said he had seen the young man playing in the bandstand and that they were a source of annoyance to people who had occasion to pass through the common, their talk and actions being anything but pleasing to passersby. Hart was ordered to pay a fine of $5.

Lightless Vehicles

Thomas H. Chin was charged with violating the automobile law by not having the required number of lamps on his automobile lighted while passing through Bridge street about 11:30 o'clock on the night of August 31. Chin had a copy of the automobile law in his possession but when he started to inform the court what his rights were Judge Enright told him that the laws he referred to were of the 1911 vintage while the laws he was being tried under were dated 1915. Patrolman Kenney who made the complaint said that he signalled Chin to stop but the latter refused to do so and when he was finally brought to a stop none of the lights was going, but were later turned on. Chin was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

George Richardson was driving a wagon through Lawrence street on the 24th of August and owing to the fact that there was no light on the vehicle he was summoned into court. After entering a plea of guilty he was fined $2.

Trivial Assault

James Bodkin was charged with assault and battery on an unknown person in Thonodine street Saturday night. Patrolman Jerome Cullen said that as he was passing by the house he saw Bodkin strike a man and the latter refused to enter a complaint. The defendant was fined $2.

Disturbed the Peace

Antonio Perica and Joseph Perica got into a mixup Saturday night on the common. The latter was sent to court on a charge of disturbing the peace when Patrolman J. T. Kelley and Hubert Goldrick put in an appearance. When brought before the court this morning each entered a plea of guilty and were ordered to pay fines of $10 each.

Other Offenders

George Portnuff was sent home three times Saturday night by Patrolman Arthur Drowett but he did not heed the warning of the officer and finally he was placed under arrest and when being brought to court he used abusive language. Just for that it cost him $10 in court this morning.

These was the usual number of Saturday and Sunday drunks, 15 offenders being released by the probation officer before the opening of court. A 9th offender was sent to the state farm and another man who had been before the court for the 10th time was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Another old timer was given a suspended sentence in the house of correction and several others were allowed to go after paying fines.

Joseph H. Hickey, who claims to be a doctor, was released from the house of correction Saturday after serving two months, but he had enjoyed freedom but a short time when he was placed under arrest. He was given 24 hours to get out of the city and if he fails to obey the order of the court he will be sent to the house of correction for three months.

Charles Thomas was charged with assault and battery on Abraham Crossman and found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $12.

A BIG POLICE DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT

Gang Attempted to Rescue Prisoner—Freight Car Entered— Fine for Lightless Auto

Judge Thomas J. Enright announced this morning that he proposes to punish severely people who interfere with an officer who is making an arrest, and that if his warning is not heeded, he will use drastic measures.

This statement was caused by trouble which occurred in the vicinity of Middlesex and Jackson streets, late Saturday night, when Patrolman John T. Kelley placed a man under arrest and a score or more of friends of the man under arrest made an attempt to rescue him. Special Officer Briggs came to Patrolman Kelley's assistance as did Chauffeur Fred Cotter of the police department.

Manuel Jardin came out of a Middlesex street saloon and was placed under arrest by Patrolman Kelley, whereupon a number of the former's companions interfered. The arresting officer took the man through a side door of the saloon and a score or more of friends of the man under arrest made an attempt to rescue him. Special Officer Briggs came to Patrolman Kelley's assistance as did Chauffeur Fred Cotter of the police department.

ELECTION DAY IN MAINE

Big Vote is Expected—Leaders of Both Parties Confident of Vic- tory—National Policy the Issue

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11.—Voters of Maine to the number of 140,000 or more, went to the polls today to elect a governor, two United States senators, four representatives to the house of representatives, a state legislature and a state auditor.

National issues have been brought to the fore and party leaders brought hundreds of speakers into the state, including former Justice Hughes, former Vice President Wilson's cabinet members and a host of other prominent figures to persuade the voters to line up with or against the national executive and the majority in congress.

Maine, however, is normally republican, and the democratic leaders insist that something more than a scant republican victory would be required to constitute a repudiation of the administration while a democratic plurality, however small, would be accepted by them as an endorsement.

Party leaders took a squint at the sky before breakfast and smiled. "The heavens were blue which meant, they figured, a big vote equally desired by both sides."

Governor, auditor, four congressmen, two United States senators and a state legislature were to be chosen. The state officers are now democratic and that party has one of the two seats in the United States senate and one of the four seats in the national house of representatives.

In 1914, the progressives cast 18,226 votes for governor. How their vote would split today was a matter of dispute. The variability of the vote in Maine is unusual. The total vote cast in 1899 was greater by 6,000 than the total of 1904. In 1895, Jewell W. Powers, republican, was elected governor by a plurality of 48,216. Two years ago, Gov. Oakley C. Curtis, democrat, won by 21,852.

The polls opened at 6 o'clock and must close not later than five. Many of the returns will be slow, as some towns and plantations are without telegraphic or telephonic communication with the outside. However, the results should be indicated before midnight.

Alleged Repeaters Arrested

Reports from throughout the state indicated rather early voting and a good sized vote cast by noon. The weather continued perfect with a temperature of 61 degrees.

In ward three of this city two arrests for alleged attempts to repeat were made during the forenoon.

FORD FILES ANSWER TO SUIT OF NAVY LEAGUE

DOES NOT RETRACT STATEMENTS MADE—SUED FOR $100,000 FOR LIBEL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Henry Ford, through counsel, filed in the District of Columbia supreme court today his answer in the $100,000 libel suit brought against him by the Navy League of the United States on account of a newspaper advertisement impugning the motives of the league and its officers in their preparedness propaganda.

Mr. Ford does not retract the statements complained of, but declared he had reason to believe they were true and that they had been published broadcast throughout the country and made often in congress without bringing a denial from the league, so far as he knew. He points out that he voluntarily accepted service in the suit, in spite of the advice of counsel, that he was not obliged to do so.

THE AMERICAN-MEXICAN JOINT COMMISSION

RESUMES EFFORTS TO FIND SO- LUTION FOR PROBLEMS AF- FECTING BORDER

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 11.—The American-Mexican joint commission resumed today its efforts to find a solution for the problems affecting the international boundary. This was the third joint discussion by the six commissioners. Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican representatives, presided.

So far there has been nothing more than a general mention of the Mexican request that General Pershing's forces be withdrawn from Mexico. The basis of the plans for policing the line that have been talked over, has been the return of the American troops to their own territory, ensuring that movement as the first step toward establishing a permanent system of protection against border bandits.

PRES. WILSON RUSHES TO BEDSIDE OF SISTER

MRS. ANNIE E. HOWE BELIEVED TO BE DYING IN NEW LONDON, CONN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—President Wilson rushed through this city shortly before 1 o'clock today on his journey from his summer home in Long Branch, N. J., to the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Annie E. Howe, who is believed to be dying in New London, Conn.

The president was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson. His stay in New London will depend upon his sister's condition.

WORLD'S GREATEST BRIDGE COLLAPSED; 25 LIVES LOST

5000 Ton Span of Quebec Bridge Collapsed and Carried 90 Men Into St. Lawrence River—Many Injured, While Others Were Rescued

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 11.—The span of the world's greatest bridge collapsed into the St. Lawrence river today with a loss of life variously estimated. The company erecting the structure placed the number of deaths at upwards of 25, but H. P. Borden, a member of the Quebec bridge commission expressed the opinion that only three persons were killed. Several hours after the accident happened, at 10:30 o'clock, a special train into Quebec brought 20 men who had been injured.

The project interrupted today originated in 1853 when at the request of the Quebec city council a New York engineer submitted plans and estimates. Courage and capital were lacking, however, and it was not until 1882 that the scheme again was given serious consideration. The cantilever plan of bridge building was at that time becoming generally used and distinguished Canadian engineers obtained a charter at Ottawa and after many years of delay the building was begun, only to have it terminate disastrously in the collapse of the unfinished structure in 1907.

Canada's federal railway department then decided to reconstruct it and the undertaking was placed in the hands of a commission which included several noted American bridge builders, among them Ralph Modjeski of Chicago, and C. C. Schneider of New York.

3200 Feet From Shore to Shore

The plans for the bridge provided for a channel span longer than that of any existing today anywhere. Its length from shore to shore when completed would be 3200 feet and the space between the anchor buttresses 1800 feet. There were to be two railroad tracks, two street car tracks and two roads and while the bridge was being built primarily to be of service for national transcontinental transportation, it was to be used by the following railroads: Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk, Quebec Central, Intercolonial, Quebec & Lake St. John, Quebec and Saguenay, Canada Northern and Delaware & Hudson.

GENERAL STRIKE OF 750,000 MEN IS THREATENED

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—With the leaders of 750,000 labor men of Greater New York and vicinity threatening sympathetic strikes, traffic on the subway and elevated lines in Manhattan and the Bronx impeded and the surface system in those two boroughs and Westchester county virtually tied up the general strike situation assumed a more serious aspect today.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declined to discuss the probability of a general strike but other union leaders asserted that if necessary 50,000 union men could be called out within six hours.

William B. Fitzgerald, general organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees, which is conducting the strike in a statement issued today asserted that the effort of the local traction interests to destroy the union is the forerunner of a movement by capital to crush organized labor throughout the country.

President Shonts replied to this by saying: "Labor organizers came here to organize this town and if they succeed they will do to this city just what the railroad brotherhoods did to the government."

DELAY STEEL FOR WARSHIPS

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Inability of the United States government to secure steel is delaying the work on the warships that are being built at the government navy yards.

THOUSANDS WITNESSED COLLAPSE

The juggling of the 5000 tons of steel strained to the point of several thousand spectators including members of parliament and newspaper men gathered on vessels furnished by the Canadian government. Members of the Dominion cabinet witnessed the collapse from the deck of a government vessel while American tourists crowded hundreds of other boats of all classes. Enthusiastic American authorities on bridge building and members of the Australian parliament returning home after visiting in Europe also were at the scene and river traffic for ocean-going steamships had been temporarily suspended.

All Examined for Infantile Paralysis by Corps of Doctors—No Sign of Disease

Sixteen hundred and sixteen students reported at the Lowell high school at 5:30 o'clock this morning when the doors opened for the 1916-17 term. The number is nearly 400 less than the names on the register but there is always a large number of absentees on the first day of school. It is not believed by the school authorities that the infantile paralysis epidemic had any bearing on keeping the pupils at home.

At least 250 more students are expected within the next few days which will make an enrollment of nearly 1900, probably the largest in the history of the school.

Seventy-five of the 1616 boys and girls examined by 10 physicians and four school nurses were sent home to remain for at least a few days until they were further examined. It was stated that none of the pupils showed symptoms of anything serious but it was thought advisable to keep them in the school rooms in order to prevent any danger. High temperatures were the cause in many cases, it was said. The physicians occupied in examining the students were: Drs. C. S. Baker, Winifred N. Devine, Nathan Pulsifer, J. A. Mehan, E. O. Tabor, J. J. Cassidy, J. F. Boyle, G. O. Lavallee, C. M. Loughnan and W. G. Eaton.

The school nurses were: Melda McDonald, Marguerite O'Dwyer and Miss Pickard and Supervisor Elyonette Holland.

There were nearly 650 in this year's freshman class. Besides the high school building and the Paige street annex, two rooms in the Kirk street primary school are being used and another building known as the "temporary annex" has also been transformed into a school room. With the use of these buildings Principal Wright believes that all the students will be comfortably accommodated.

Just two changes in the faculty were announced. Miss Frances Leggat of 610 Broadway has been engaged as an instructor in physical training culture, a new office, and Fred Albanson will teach bookkeeping, filling the place made vacant by the resignation of W. E. Henscoter.

As the students reported at 8:30 o'clock this morning they were assigned to their respective rooms by Principal Irish and his assistants and immediately the examination of the pupils took place in the rooms. The examination included the filling out of a blank with questions requiring information as to places visited outside of Lowell during the summer vacation, visitors from out-of-town entertained recently, whether the pupil has been in contact with cases of infantile paralysis and the usual questions relative to the names of parents, etc.

Then the physical examination was started. This, of course, was done chiefly to find traces of infantile paralysis if any existed but other diseases were carefully watched for. The temperature of each student was taken and the throat and eyes were examined. They were made to move their fingers and to walk about the room moving their arms up and down.

Following the examinations the pupils were dismissed until tomorrow morning when the class work will begin.

SUPERIOR COURT CRIMINAL CASES TRIED TODAY

The criminal session of the superior court opened in this city this morning with Justice Stevens on the bench.

At the opening of Court Rev. N. W. Matthews offered prayer and later the roll call of jurors took place.

The first case to be disposed of was that of Henry Farrington, who was on probation for breaking and entering and larceny, and who was surrendered by Probation Officer Ramsey. Farrington was sentenced to the house of correction for 15 months.

Samuel H. Millette was arraigned on two counts of forgery and he was sentenced to 18 months to the house of correction after entering a plea of guilty.

Joseph Santos, a resident of Nashua, when arraigned on a charge of felonious assault, entered his plea and admitted his guilt and was sentenced to the state prison for a term of not less than 7 years and not more than 10 years. The complainant in this case was Flora Godin of Perkins st., who is 22 years of age, and who testified to the effect that Santos, whom she had never seen before, entered her room in the morning, forced her to have sexual intercourse with him, and assaulted her. The man was arrested while jumping from the fire escape. In the lower court he denied his guilt.

Henri Beaudry and Alexina Souvia were charged with illegal cohabitation. Beaudry denied his guilt, while the woman pleaded guilty. The case of Beaudry was heard by a jury and in the course of his testimony he denied the charge. A few minutes after the close of the case the jury returned a verdict of guilty and Beaudry's sentence was deferred to a later date. The woman was placed in the care of the probation officer.

Alfred Baron, aged 21 years, charged with the larceny of an automobile from Albert Sclard of Avon street and with operating a motor vehicle without a license, was placed on probation after entering pleas of guilty. Baron took the machine last July and drove to Springfield, where he gave himself up, saying that he was wanted in Lowell. He paid $15 toward the costs of the court.

George Parker pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the store of Michael J. Donoghue, 260 School street, on the morning of August 30 with intent to commit larceny. Parker gained an entrance through a rear window. He was placed on probation after paying the five dollar costs.

Mary Brisson, who entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment of drunkenness, was found guilty by the jury and the court sentenced her to two months in jail.

Suffolk street, near the corner of Dodge street, on August 11th by Patrolmen E. N. Breault and George S. Abbott. Both officers testified that the woman was under the influence of liquor. She was found guilty in the lower court and a sentence of three months in jail was imposed. Owing to the fact that she has been in jail for a month the court reduced the sentence to two months.

Peter Spireopoulos, charged with lewd cohabitation, was placed on probation.

Frank Shields, charged with assault and battery, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty and was also placed on probation.

John Morning and Paul Menard entered pleas of guilty to breaking and entering and larceny of $10 from the home of Mary A. Smith, on July 14th and breaking and entering and lar-

REPLY TO HUGHES' ATTACK ON SHIP PURCHASE LAW

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Reply is made to Candidate Hughes' attack on the ship purchase law in his Maine speeches in the Democratic National textbook, released for publication yesterday.

"Under the American ship registry act of 1914, which removed the restriction as to the country on a ship's construction," says the textbook, "there have been added to American registry in overseas commerce 183 vessels of 617,154 gross tons, which now carry American commerce under the American flag."

126 Per Cent Increase
"On July 1, 1916, American registry of ocean merchantmen covered in round numbers, 2,100,000 vessel tons, as compared with 930,000 on the same date in 1912—an increase of 126 per cent in four years time."

"On July 1, moreover, there were building in American shipyards steel merchantmen of 1,225,000 tons as compared with 271,000 tons on the same date in 1912. In this case, the increase is over 350 per cent. Prophecies of timid republican orators that free American registry would injure American ship yards are blown to the winds."

"As against 1,225,000 steel tonnage under construction in American yards on July 1, the record construction of Germany was 920,000 in 1914; while the United Kingdom has recorded a greater tonnage up to 1,100,000 tons in construction last year was 550,000 tons."

"The United States in 1916 stands, for the first time in its history, the foremost ship-building country in the world."

Gives Practical Means

The textbook article shows that the ship purchase act provides as practical means of aiding American merchant shipping and that the old guard republican counter proposal is the old one of giving government subsidies to favored corporations. That now is the reactionary and discredited plan espoused by Candidate Hughes.

There is no achievement of which the democratic party may boast with greater justification than the enactment of the shipping law which President Wilson and a democratic congress has given the country. The textbook says: "In spite of the opposition and power of the shipping trust and in spite of the indefensible obstruction of the republican party, controlled and enforced by special interests pleading for subsidies, this military preparedness creates an American merchant marine in time of peace and a naval auxiliary in time of war. It is the first great practical step of any administration to restore the American flag to the seas in the interest of the people of the United States and of all legitimate business of the country."

"It will permit the development of a permanent constructive merchant marine policy conferring incalculable benefits not only upon our farmers, merchants, manufacturers and producers, but upon our ship owners and investors as well."

Free Shipping

"By the creation of a shipping board for the regulation of ocean carriers in the interest of American shippers, the law will release our foreign commerce from the grip of shipping combinations, and the control and domination of foreign flags. It will give the farmers and manufacturers of the United States the benefit of reasonable ocean freight rates. And will free them of the notorious discriminations and injustices to which they have been subjected during the years that the people of the United States have been clamoring for an American merchant marine."

"True to its record as the party of special privilege, the only alternate offered by the republican party for this construction measure was a plan for ship subsidies. To take the people's money and give it outright to the ship owners with the longest pull and the strongest pull purely for their personal profit and enrichment, without the remotest control by the government or the slightest consideration of our shippers, was the plan."

"The shipping act is in the constructive measure, which says to every American shipper on the high seas: 'The United States government and the mobilized commercial forces of America are behind you with a navigation system and cargoes to see that you carry the commerce of America with success to your company and honor to your country.'"

Old Plan Discredited

"Against the constructive program for the restoration of the American merchant marine, as now effective, developed by President Wilson and a democratic congress, the republican platform of Hughes and Fairbanks offers the old discredited plan of ship subsidy and subsidies."

"Every practical shipper and shipowner knows that, as against the aid of present ocean rates a mail subsidy is a dead letter. The vessels receiving subsidies from the belligerent nations are today withdrawn from merchant service and drafted for war purposes. Merchant vessels of neutral countries desert their subsidized mail routes for the profits of Atlantic commerce."

15,000 ODD FELLOWS IN PARADE IN BOSTON

THOUSANDS CHEER THEM ON THREE MILE MARCH AND AT OPEN AIR SERVICE

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Under sunny skies, and with ideal weather, while thousands of spectators cheered and applauded, 15,000 Massachusetts Odd Fellows marched through Boston streets yesterday afternoon, and later took part in a most impressive, many-day open-air service at Fenway park, the whole event marking the annual church day of the Triple Link league, I.O.O.F.

It was the most spectacular, successful, and the largest public event ever held by the Odd Fellows of this state. In the course of many of these, the outstanding feature was the flag parade, in which color bearers from 15 lodges from all parts of the state marched and counter-marched abreast across the baseball field at Fenway park, and then stood at attention in one long straight line, while the assembly of thousands of grand stand stood uncovered and thundered forth the "Star Spangled Banner" in unison with the band of 80 pieces.

KEEP THE CITY CLEAN

And Keep Bats Away—Rodents Will Not Come Where There Is No Food to Be Found

It is a remarkable fact, confirmed by many observations, that many physicians who have devoted considerable labor to the study of a particular disease have themselves died of that disease. One of the most interesting examples is that of John Daniel Major, born August 16, 1834, in Bremen, a physician and naturalist of no mean ability. Bitten early by the wanderlust, he studied at Wittenberg, took courses at many of the schools in Germany, and finally went to Italy where he received the degree of doctor of medicine at Pavia in 1860. Returning to his own country, he resided for a short time in Silesia, and in 1861 married at Wittenberg, Margaret Dorothy, a daughter of the celebrated Semmelweis. The following year, his young wife was stricken with plague and died after an illness of eight days. Instructed by his loss, Major wandered up and down Europe studying plague wherever he found it in the hope that he might discover a cure for the disease which had so nearly killed him. Spain, Germany, France and Russia were visited by him. He resided in 1865 in Kiel, where he was professor of botany and the director of the botanical gardens. He made frequent voyages, however, always in quest of the remedy for plague. Finally in 1862, he was called to Stockholm to treat the queen of Sweden. The eleven months with the plague, but before he could begin his duty service, he contracted the disease and died on the third of August.

The epidemic plague of today is fought with the black death of the middle ages. Primarily a disease of rodents caused by a short, stout, shaped parasitic bacillus, the pest has thus far been known in three forms: the pneumonic, which has a death rate of almost 100 per cent; the septicaemic, which is nearly as fatal; and the bubonic in which even with the most modern methods of treatment the mortality is about 50 per cent. It is a disease of enormous spreading around the globe in the body of the Sanjourne rat. It is estimated that every case of bubonic plague costs the municipality a which it occurs at least $100. This does not take into account the enormous loss due to disastrous quarantine and the commercial paralysis which the fear of the disease so frequently produces.

The disease is now treated by a serum discovered through the efforts of Yersin. This is used in much the same way as is diphtheria antitoxin. Plague is transferred from the sick patient to the well man by fleas, the sick rat has enormous numbers of plague bacilli in its blood. The blood is taken by the flea which leaving the sick rat, seeks refuge and sustenance on the body of a human being to whom it transmits the infection.

Since plague is a disease of rodents and since it is carried from sick rodents to well men by rodent fleas, safety from the disease lies in the exclusion of rodents and, only, exclusion from the habitation of man, but also from the ports and cities of the world. Those who dwell in rat-proof surroundings take no plague. Not only should man dwell in rat-proof surroundings, but he should also live in rat-free surroundings. The day is past when the rodent served a useful purpose as the unpaid city scavenger. Rats will not come where there is no food for them. Municipal cleanliness may be regarded as a partial insurance against plague. The prayer that no plague come high our dwelling is best answered, however, by removing the habitations of man from the pestilence which walketh in darkness and striketh at noonday, and the U. S. public health service has put this knowledge into practical operation by the so-called eradication of plague wherever it has appeared in the United States.

GREEK OUTING HELD

The first annual outing under the auspices of the Young Greek Men's Progressive union was held yesterday at the Lakeside farm in Ayer and was attended by about 150 people. The party left their quarters in the Lakeside building at 10:30 a. m. and upon arriving at the grounds, enjoyed a brief program of sports. Dinner was served and in the afternoon athletic events were held. The committee in charge of the general arrangements included John Marston, president; John Bravara, vice president; G. G. O'Connell, secretary; G. Gratz, treasurer; M. Tzermistocleous, director, and John Vlahos, president of the Greek-American association.

THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY

St. Marie's Parish Held Lawn Fete on the Church Grounds—Over 5000 Attended

The celebration in connection with the tenth anniversary of the founding of St. Marie's parish in South Lowell was brought to a close last evening, and it is figured that over 5000 people attended the event, which was in the form of a lawn fete on the church grounds. The fete started Saturday noon and was brought to a close last evening.

Yesterday morning a solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Antoine Amant, O.M.I., founder of the parish, John Bravara, vice president, G. O'Connell, O.M.I., and Rev. Bro. Hill, O.M.I., both of Tewksbury as deacon and sub-deacon. Rev. John Baerter, O.M.I., the present pastor of the parish, was master of ceremonies, while the sermon was given by Rev. Bro. H. Baerter, O.M.I., pastor of St. Joseph's.

In the afternoon on the church grounds a delightful concert was given by the A. G. Cadets Brass Band, while musical numbers were also given in the evening. The affair was a great success and reflected much credit upon the organizers, who were as follows:

Restaurant, chairman, Mrs. Alexis J. Gaudin; Miss Eugene Lavender; Mrs. Arthur Bravara; Mrs. Philippe Na-deau, Mrs. Honore Rousseau, Mrs. Joseph Massicotte, Mrs. George Gellineau, Mrs. Florida Dondreau, Miss Clara Lacombe and others; publicity, Arthur Beauchamp and Joseph A. Plante; fish pond, chairman, Mrs. Hermenegilde Brun, Mrs. Athanasie Brun, Mrs. P. Sampson, Misses Elsie Brun, Ora Brun and Mary Wron; postoffice, chairman, Miss Yvonne Gendreau; Misses Agnes Masse, Sarah Gendreau and Rose Massicotte; chairman, Miss Gertrude Nadeau; Misses Lena Lebel, Bertha Nadeau and A. Ducharme; refreshments, chairman, Albert Marion; Misses Emma Dancosse, Florida Marion, Marie Ange Couture and Alexis J. Coutu; hit the coin, Arthur Dumont; bottle breakers: Sinal Velette; dolls, chairman, Isaac Surprenant; F. Coutu and Alphonse Coutu; grounds: Arsene Brun, Severo Dumont and Elizee Marchand.

U. S. CARTRIDGE EMPLOYEES

Those of South Lowell Plant Held Outing at Camp Texas Up River Saturday Afternoon

The overseers and foremen of the South Lowell plant of the United States Cartridge Co. held an outing at Camp Texas on the upper Merrimack river Saturday afternoon which proved to be a very successful affair. The party left this city shortly after noon in automobiles and upon arriving at the camp enjoyed a delightful dinner.

During the afternoon sports were held and the baseball match between the American and single men proved to be the stellar event of the day, the single men winning by a score of 21 to 7.

Following the ball game lively races were held which were won as follows: pole yard dash, Mr. Hamblet, inspection department; potato race, Edward Burke; testing department; three-legged race, Messrs. Bailey and Mull; ball throwing contest, Mr. Nixon, transportation department. Then came the swimming and boating events, Edward Sweney and Frank Ward of the plant service department carried off all the honors in these events.

After a buffet luncheon at 5 o'clock the return was made to the city, everybody voting it the "best ever."

The guests of the afternoon were William Robinson and C. S. Sibley of the Lawrence street plant; S. B. Horton of the South Lowell division and Messrs. Whelan and Col. Valdivia of the British and Russian inspection department.

The following department heads were responsible for the success of the affair: Testing department, James Burns; Edward Burns, Mr. Murphy; inspection department, Messrs. Connors, Hamblet, Gray, Hamblet, loading department, Messrs. Humphreys, Galvin and Charles; stock department, Messrs. Boulton, Miner, Hennessey, Flannery, Cusack, Rodgers; mail service department, Messrs. Sweney and Ward.

EFFORTS TO SAVE HIS CHUM ARE FUTILE

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 11.—Ernest F. Mattison of Providence, 22 years old, lost his life in a six-hour battle with a heavy sea and a gale in Cape Cod bay, off Ship's Pond village, below Manomet, early yesterday morning, and Charles A. Allen of Edgewood, R. I., his companion, with whom he was trying to reach shore after their catboat capsized, barely succeeded in saving himself. Allen's heroic effort to save Mattison's life nearly cost him his own.

Companion Collapses

Upon reaching safety Allen collapsed on shore and lay unconscious about an hour.

Finally he regained consciousness, and crawled 200 yards on his hands and knees to the house of Benjamin W. Hatch, where he was taken in and a physician called. He became unconscious again immediately, but was restored within a few minutes and told of his experience.

Meanwhile Mattison's body had been found 150 feet from shore by a fisherman.

During the summer Mattison and Allen had been at Annisquam beach near Gloucester, as swimming instructors for the summer residents there. They left there Saturday in an 18-foot open cat boat intending to sail through the Cape Cod canal. Early in the evening a brisk wind came up from the northwest and developed into a gale. When about five miles off Ship's Pond village, about 5 o'clock Saturday night, the craft was caught in the trough of the sea and capsized.

The two succeeded in getting back to the sinking craft and thought out a plan to save themselves. The wind was increasing in force and the waves were breaking over them. They could see a light on shore and decided to try to swim to it. It was slow work, and finally after struggling against the sea for hours Mattison began to lose his strength.

Allen realized that Mattison was fastening and so he lashed him to the mast and began to tow him to shore. Allen said that when he got Mattison about 150 yards from the shore he turned and told him to keep up his courage as they were almost safe. He towed the mast to shore and then collapsed, straining some time later and crawling to the steps of Mr. Hatch's house where he again lost consciousness.

Dr. E. D. Hill, medical examiner, was the physician called. Allen regained consciousness and told the story. Robert Richardson, who lives near the shore, was walking along the shore and saw the sail and mast about 100 feet off shore. It evidently having been washed out again by the tide, he secured a dory and went out and found the body fastened to the mast. The sail was kept aloft by air underneath it. Richardson towed it to shore and took the body to his barn, where Dr. Hill examined it and pronounced it dead due to exhaustion and heart failure, but not drowning, as no water was found in the lungs.

The body was taken to Providence last night. Allen's family came here and took him back to Edgewood by automobile.

Telling of the latter part of the struggle, Allen said: "It was slow and exhausting work. Mattison complained after a long time that he was all in and could go no further. He seemed to lose his senses."

Fought to Save Chum

"I realized that the only chance was to lash him to the mast so that I could tow him in. It was dark and hard work, but at last I succeeded. I was nearly exhausted, but I had decided I would fight it out to a finish and save Mattison."

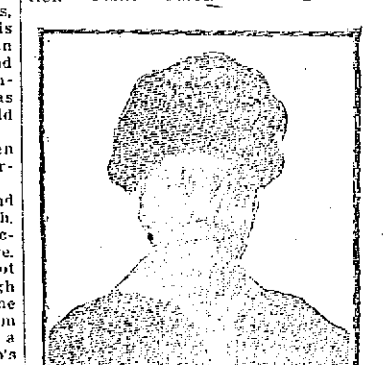

"I kept trying to cheer him up and he made faint replies for a while, but kept complaining that he was going to give up. When we got close to shore, I should say about 150 yards or so, I turned around and told him to cheer up for we were nearly there. I got no answer, but didn't think he was dead. I kept on the shore and dragged the mast up as far as I could. I remember falling down and wrote up with the water rushing over me. "I saw the light again and crawled to the shore. That is all I remember until I came to in bed here. When we started from the boat to swim ashore we thought we could make it, as we could swim well. We thought we'd better take the mast along in case we needed to rest. The water was very rough, the wind was blowing against us and the water was bitter cold. It was an awful experience."

TELLS THE STORY

Boston Church Lady Gives Interesting Testimonial for New Stomach Remedy

To all who suffer with the symptoms of a deranged stomach, liver or kidney trouble or rheumatism, immediate relief is at hand through the use of the new vegetable preparation Plant Juice. Nothing that science has put forth from the laboratory of nature has so quickly sprung into world-wide fame and prominence as has this preparation. Wherever introduced it has taken immediate hold on the public and brought forth words of praise from people in all stations of life. It does all that is claimed for it, and more, as is verified by the statements of people living in your own home city. Possibly your next door neighbor has proven that this notable remedy has been remarkably successful as a germ destroyer, a tissue organizer, and a builder-up of wasted organs. For instance, the signed statement of Mrs. Mary A. Linderman, who lives at No. 37 Dawford street, Jamaica Plain, and is a well known lady in Lowell. She has hosts of friends, having been a member of a large church in Boston for over 30 years. She stated:

"For the last 15 years I have suffered from stomach trouble, which took the form of indigestion and dyspepsia. After eating, my food would ferment and cause gas, with a heavy, bloated condition in the pit of my stomach. I had headaches, dizzy spells, coated tongue and a constant burning sensation in my throat. I was around my heart and could not keep any solid food in my stomach. It was so worse, so bad to live on tea and toast. My liver was torpid, kidneys were affected, and I felt all run down. I had used numerous medicines in the hope of finding some burning sensation in my throat. I had taken many pills, and that seemed to give me benefit from the first dose and toned my stomach up in fine shape. I can now eat any kind of food without distress, sleep well at night. Have no more trouble with my liver or kidneys. And can truthfully say that Plant Juice has cured me. All the people at home are taking Plant Juice and think it is a great system builder."

"The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, The Druggists in Merrimack square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given."

SCHOOL ANNOUNCEMENTS IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

NOTES OF YESTERDAY'S SERV- ICES—HOLY NAME SOCIETIES ACTIVE—OTHER ITEMS

Special announcements regarding the opening of the parochial schools were made by the pastors of the various Catholic churches yesterday and in each instance the parents were urged to send their children in order to ensure for them the benefits of a religious training. Owing to the epidemic of infantile paralysis, the opening of the parochial schools has been postponed in most cases and special precautions have been taken in the schools that have opened today. These announcements at most of the churches also regarding the parish societies, the fall season being reflected in new activities.

St. Patrick's
The parochial schools of St. Patrick's parish opened this morning. Mass was celebrated for the children at 8 o'clock at the conclusion of which they were examined by the physicians that have been assigned for the purpose by the city. Rev. Bro. Osmund, superior of the Xaverian brothers and principal of the school, reports that an unusually large number of boys have enrolled for the coming year.

On Tuesday evening, the regular meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held at the conclusion of which there will be benediction of the blessed sacrament. The members of the sodality received communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday, which was celebrated by Right Rev. William O'Brien, P.R., who was assisted in giving communion by Rev. J. J. Kerrigan.

St. Michael's
The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish held its opening meeting of the season yesterday. The members attended communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass and the attendance was such as to fill the body of the church. Last evening at 6.30, the society proceeded to the hall and transacted business for the coming year. President Charles Burns was elected to represent St. Michael's at the meeting to be held tomorrow evening in preparation for Columbus day. The president and Rev. Fr. Mullin, spiritual director, complimented the men on their fine showing and spoke with enthusiasm of the outlook for the coming season. It is planned to have several social events in the near future.

St. Peter's
Members of the married ladies' sodality received communion at the 7.30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's yesterday. Rev. D. J. Kellier, P.D., was celebrant. It was announced that the parochial schools of the parish would be opened next Thursday. Mass will be celebrated by the pastor and all of the children have been requested to attend before taking up their school has enrolled for the coming year.

Immaculate Conception
The parochial schools of the Immaculate Conception church will open next Monday, Sept. 18. Announcement to this effect was made by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., at all of the masses yesterday, and he took occasion to speak in detail of the advantages of a Catholic education and of the schools of the parish in particular. Yesterday was communion day for the Holy Name society and the attendance at the 7.30 o'clock mass was unusually large. The pastor celebrated the mass and he was assisted in giving communion by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I.

Sacred Heart
The grammar grades of the parochial schools of the Sacred Heart parish opened this morning with a full attendance. Mass of the Holy Ghost was celebrated at 8 by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., the pastor, with the children of all grades in attendance. When the required physical examination of the children has been completed, the primary grades will open.

St. Columba's
The regular winter schedule of services at St. Columba's church will go into effect immediately, as announced yesterday by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. At the 6.30 o'clock mass, the members of the Holy Name society received communion. The parish mass was celebrated by Rev. T. W. Buckley and he also gave benediction at the evening services. The regular session of the Sunday school was started yesterday.

Oblate Missions
Several Oblate Fathers from Lowell churches have been given mission assignments that will take them considerable distances in the near future. Rev. J. C. Duffy, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y., Rev. P. J. Phelan, O.M.I., and Rev. James McCormick, O.M.I., are to leave for the diocese of Helena, Mont., to conduct a series of missions that will start on Oct. 1 and continue through till June 1. Rev. J. McDermott, O.M.I., and Rev. Charles Fallon, O.M.I., started a two weeks' mission yesterday at the Sacred Heart church, Weymouth.

HELD UNION SERVICE AT CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

KIRK STREET CHURCH WORSHIPS AT METHODIST ON FAIR- STREET

The first union service of the Kirk Street Congregational church and the Central M. E. church was held yesterday morning with a congregation that filled the church to its capacity. The service was conducted by Rev. George M. Ward, D.D., assisted by

Rev. Samuel Dupont. Dr. Ward announced that the entire expense of the improvements had been met from funds in the hands of the deacons, leaving the $2,000 received from the sale of the other church intact. The Kirk Street society, he said, stood pledged to a union with other Congregational churches when, in God's good time, it would be worked out, and that in the meantime its members were deeply grateful to their Methodist brethren for coming to their assistance in offering a temporary church home, under conditions that he believed would prove to the spiritual advantage of both parishes. He also announced that the supply committee has engaged Rev. William F. English of Salem, Me., to fill the pulpit for the coming year. He will begin his duties Sept. 24.

After the Vacation
The Sunday services at the First Unitarian church were resumed yesterday with the pastor, Rev. Alfred P. Hussey, preaching on the subject, "Beginning Again." His text was from Revelations: "And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new."

In the course of his remarks he spoke of the vacation season thus: "The ending of the summer season has its trials. It is hard for us to give up the summer's ease. The people who every September through the trains and steamboats on the way to town east many a longing, lingering look behind. But the work of the world has to be done. Work, and play, is the time to which the world turns time. We are all of us reapers together with God, in the construction of his kingdom among men. Therefore the time is not the season for vain regrets. September bids us turn squarely around and face forward."

Now is the time for us to make new resolutions and to carry them out, to renovate our characters, and to make the coming winter, for ourselves, our church and our town, the best ever known. It is the time for forgetting old grudges and former disappointments. The time is ripe for searching our hearts, for taking, as it were, an account of moral life, so far as the contents of our lives are concerned. It is the season for a moral and spiritual house cleaning, before we plunge into the business and pleasure that shall fill our lives in the coming months.

CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES URGED TO WEIGH BREAD

U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY, STATE'S ATTORNEY AND CITY COUNCIL TO INVESTIGATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Housewives of Chicago were today urged to weigh the bread they buy and to assist the city department of weights and measures in watching bakers for violations of the anti-trust laws and the ordinances against short weights.

The announcement by a leading baking concern Saturday that for several days it had been cutting down the weight of its five-cent loaf of bread was responsible for the request. The United States district attorney, the state's attorney and the city council have already started investigations into the bakery situation.

organization on Broadway yesterday, the polls opening at 10 a. m. and closing at 4 p. m. There was great interest in the election and practically every member was on hand to cast his ballot. When the results were announced, the defeated candidates moved that all elections be made unanimous, and the suggestion was carried out. The results were as follows: President, Timothy F. O'Sullivan; vice president, Daniel Martin; recording secretary, William Madden; financial secretary, Richard P. O'Brien; treasurer, Peter F. Brady; board of directors, William A. Walsh, John Hannan and John Riley; sergeant of arms, James Winn.

In accepting his re-election, Pres. O'Sullivan thanked all the members for this expression of confidence, and also expressed his gratitude for co-operation and assistance in the past. He hoped that each and every member would continue to assist the officers in the future and said that if this be done nothing but success and prosperity would be enjoyed. The other officers also thanked the members for honoring them and assured them that they would do all in their power to further the interests of the club.

A business meeting was held and plans were made for the annual outing of the club, to be held at Flushing pond on Sept. 24. This event will mark the formal closing of the summer season and indications point to a most successful outing. The installation of the newly elected officers will take place at the first meeting in October.

THREE FIRE ALARMS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

FIREMEN CALLED FROM NEARLY ALL STATIONS TO THE CENTRE OF THE CITY

Three bell alarms for fire were sounded within a short space of time Saturday night. Firemen and apparatus from practically every station in the city were brought to the centre of the city, owing to the fact that alarms were sounded before the real cause in for the previous fire and apparatus which generally does not respond went for the purpose of "covering" up. All three fires were in cellars and one especially was of a mysterious origin.

The number of cellar fires of late has caused considerable comment and Chief Saunders of the fire department has asked the state police to make an investigation of some recent fires, especially one of the three which took place Saturday night.

It was 6.48 o'clock when an alarm from box 113 was sounded and when the department arrived in Suffolk street, there was a lively blaze in the cellar of a building owned by Chas. Chiopelas. The building is one of three large tenement blocks located near the corner of Broadway and the fire had gained such headway that it was necessary to lay four lines of hose and several chemical fires in order to extinguish the flames. The blaze had its inception in a pile of kindling wood in the cellar and had reached such proportions before being discovered that the firemen had a task on their hands in order to confine the fire to the cellar. The smoke poured through the street in dense volumes and hundreds of persons were attracted and the police had their hands full in keeping the crowd back so that it would not interfere with the work of the firemen.

At 7.22, while some of the apparatus was on its way home and the other was limbering up in Suffolk street, an alarm came in from box 13 for a fire in the cellar of the building at 350-351 Market street, owned by D. A. Sakol. This fire had also gained considerable headway and the progress of the firemen was impeded by the large amount of timber which had been piled in the alleyway between the building where the fire was and another. This fire started in a pile of lathes and gave the fire fighters considerable trouble to get at the blaze, but owing to the number of pieces of apparatus on hand the blaze was extinguished before much damage had been done.

The owner of this property had been warned about the vicinity of the building being blocked with timber and other obstructions, and Saturday night, Chief Saunders notified Mr. Sakolarios that if the obstructions were not removed within 15 hours he would bring him into court. The owner, however, was slightly negligent.

er of the building claimed that the fire started in lathes which had been taken from the buildings torn down for the Dunmer street extension and stored in the cellar. While the firemen were battling with the flames in Market street, an alarm was sounded from box 6 for a cellar fire in the large wooden building at the corner of First street and Bridge street, owned by the J. M. G. Parker estate. The fire started directly under the store occupied by the Cennedy Fruit Co. and conducted by Christos Canteles. This fire, however, was discovered before it had gained much headway and the loss would bring him into court. The owner, however, was slightly negligent.

Owing to the lines being laid across Bridge street, electric car traffic was tied up for about twenty minutes. Fred C. Church held the insurance on the dwelling owned by Geo. F. White at No. Chelmsford, damaged by fire Saturday night, also the dwelling at the corner of Bridge and First streets, owned by the Parker estate, damaged by fire Saturday night. T. C. Lee Co. held the insurance on the building owned by C. Christos Chiopelas, 214 Suffolk street, damaged by fire Saturday night, also the A. W. Dows Co. Merrimack square, awning fire, Sunday, and dwelling owned by J. D. Finnegan, 732 Lawrence street, damaged by fire Sunday.

WORK OF CONGRESS

Now that congress has adjourned, it is in order to examine its record of achievement.

In a passing remark made by President Wilson, after signing bills a few moments before the session closed, he said the session was remarkable for what it had accomplished. It had been like those that preceded it, "full of helpful and humane legislation which constitutes contributions of capital importance to the defense, the economic progress and the wholesome life of the country." He also expressed regret that the session could not have continued long enough to deal in a deliberate manner with labor disputes on railroads or public service corporations; but he felt that business had been merely postponed and he said he had reason to believe it is the purpose of leaders on both sides to take the matter up immediately upon reassembling and pass such legislation as will relieve the country from such danger and anxiety as were caused by the threatened tieup of the railroad systems of the country, and which was averted by temporary measures.

Republicans of course could not let the opportunity pass without offering criticism of some kind, and they charged extravagance on the ground that the appropriations authorized would reach about $2,000,000. That is true; but no republican dared to say that any money was spent unwisely or for any improper purpose. In spite of the amount appropriated, the republicans are criticizing the government for not authorizing a far greater amount for preparedness. The democratic party has gone as far in this direction as the leaders felt justified in doing; and we have no doubt the country will endorse their judgment in this respect. We do not see any need of turning this country into an armed camp which is about the only thing that would please Congressman Garner and Col. Roosevelt.

One of the more important acts of the session just closed was the enactment of a merchant marine or shipping bill which will put the American flag once more upon the high seas of commerce from which it was banished by the policies of the republican party.

The Child Labor law is a direct contradiction to the campaign shouters who say that the democratic administration favors the south or in other words that in this congress the "south is in the saddle." In this matter of employing child labor in the southern cotton factories, the south had a distinct advantage over the north. There was serious objection to congressional action because of constitutional reasons; but the dwarfing of small children in any large section of the country was regarded as a national evil and on this ground the child labor law was passed despite the most vigorous opposition from some of the southern states. No longer will the textile factories of the north have to compete at a disadvantage with those of the south; no longer will the southern states be allowed to carry on an evil which so far as the children are concerned, is fully as bad as slavery. Indeed it was child slavery, the results of which were a burning disgrace to the nation. Republicans deny Wilson as favoring the south but it remained for Wilson at the head of a democratic administration to place this important and far reaching measure on the statute book.

The Rural Credits act is another measure that will vastly benefit the country by enabling the farmers to get what credit they need without any difficulty. It is a necessary supplement to the Federal Reserve act which is one of the most beneficial measures enacted by congress since the abolition of slavery.

The railroad legislation which is the first step towards the peaceful settlement of all labor troubles on public service utilities, although hailed at by republican candidates in reality a measure wholly in the interests of public safety, and in the direction of sound public policy. No republican congress ever proposed legislation of the kind contemplated by the president in recommending this measure. The critics had better wait until the work is finished. In their hysterical attacks they try to bluff the public by representing a temporary measure as a finality.

The enactment of a law providing for a tariff commission to take the tariff out of politics is one of the best measures enacted by congress in the last half century inasmuch as between the political parties the tariff has been on the end of a saw-saw, the republicans keeping it up in the air, the democrats down low.

The federal trade commission, another democratic measure, got rid of the trust evil in the true Wilsonian style—effectively yet noiselessly.

The Philippine law provides a measure of autonomous government for the islands establishing an elective senate and promising independence whenever in the opinion of the United States the people demonstrate their capability to direct their own government with intelligence. Will the republicans criticize this measure? It is needless further to dilate upon the work of congress. It is noticeable that with the exception of the railroad matter, the republican campaigners are practically mum upon the legislative record of the democratic party during the past four years. Upon this record and upon the wise diplomacy by which this nation was kept at peace with the rest of the world, while in every respect conserving its high honor and its best interests, President Wilson asks for a popular endorsement of his work at the polls in November. Unless all signs fail he will be re-elected by a sweeping majority.

BUNCOMBE

Never within the memory of man has this country been assailed with such a vast output of buncombe as the republicans are giving out all over this country in the present campaign. Perhaps some people do not understand precisely what "buncombe" means. Let us explain. In the 16th congress, while the Missouri question was under discussion, an old mountaineer of North Carolina named Felix Walker, got the floor towards the close of a long debate and continued speaking when everybody else was calling for the question. His friends appealed to him to stop, but he kept right on talking, digressing only to say that he had promised to make a speech for Buncombe county and he'd go to make it anyhow.

Since that day, any flimsy meaningless speech made to gratify constituents and win their applause without regard to truth, reason or logic, is designated "buncombe." It is the stock in trade of the republican campaigners and republican editors who are trying to please their clientele by lambsasting Wilson.

Candidate Hughes is giving the country a surfeit of buncombe in his campaign speeches because he has no real issue on which to assail the democratic administration. On his western tour, his "buncombe" fell flat and the friends told him he must put some "pep" in his assaults on Wilson. Since then he has dropped the Mexican policy and yet his tirades against Wilson on the settlement of the threatened railroad strike, rival the effort of the old mountaineer Felix Walker, in his perfunctory speech for his constituents in Buncombe. Still Hughes is short on "pep" and strong on buncombe.

There was a considerable amount of buncombe in the republican speeches delivered at the Bunting grounds Saturday afternoon, owing to the lack of any real issue that appeals strongly to the people.

THE SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

The proposed sympathetic strike in New York in aid of the carmen will injure the cause of labor if it occurs. It would hasten the day when all strikes and lockouts on public service corporations will be declared illegal at least until such times as the issues shall have been fully investigated and reported upon by a body duly selected for the purpose.

No outside labor agitator of the I.W.W. brand will be allowed to come in here to advocate sabotage as a means of winning a strike. We know that none of the regular labor unions would resort to anything so foolish as the secret destruction of property.

The vote of seventy republican house members for the democratic eight-hour bill indicates that the attitude of Hughes and the Penrose-Gallinger-Smoot contingent in the senate was wrong, and that Wilson and a democratic congress were right.

Senator La Follette is the only senate republican who voted for the eight-hour law. But when La Follette votes "Aye" and Penrose, Smoot and Gallinger vote "No," the public knows on which side lies the public interest.

These who have been condemning President Wilson for his "notes" overlook, either deliberately or wilfully, that the notes have saved many human lives and possibly kept us out of war.

The New York "Tribune" is in hard luck. It cannot support Whitman for re-election to the governorship, and its support of Hughes is more damaging to the candidate than desirable.

Should the republicans win, it would be Senator Boies Penrose upon whom Mr. Hughes as president would have to rely for the enactment of all administrative financial measures.

Climbing 11,000 feet to the top of that high mountain out in Estes park should have given Mr. Hughes a clearer vision of the country's needs.

President Wilson has been called upon to deal with conditions as they arose, not after they had been settled.

SEEN AND HEARD

Did you ever hear of a man with a lantern jaw?

A man who cheats his mother will come to grief.

Money spent in useless things would buy brick blocks.

The dainty cuisine should never be sold by human hands.

Don't get into the epidemic that you are "too sick to work."

Don't shiver before winter comes. Get out into the sunshine.

The liar forgets what he tells, wearing a hat around himself.

Wine, women and song might mean revels, police court and jail.

The parson can tie up two people, but he can't untie the knot.

Sometimes just a piece of chewing gum will make a man happy.

If you don't get a bite, how in the world can you catch a fish?

Never mind what the gossipers say about you—if you know it isn't true.

They gossip if you do and they gossip if you don't—so what's the use?

Mush and mush are in the same class. Some men sing bass, others eat bass.

Lazy people are willing to fish and to eat—but seldom will they clean them—that's work!

ONE HEAVY MAN, ANYWAY

A Boston lawyer tells this story but does not say it happened in Boston:

For long, weary hours the jury had been locked in the room trying to agree upon their verdict. The judge had sent messages for them, but in vain. There was only one man who refused to agree with the remaining 11. They pleaded, threatened, and implored, but to no avail.

For the 26th time the usher approached the door and suggested that he might bring supper.

"Shall I bring 12 suppers?" he asked.

"No!" bawled the foreman. "Bring 11 suppers and one feed of hay—or nothing!"

HENRY WITH HIS SKIN

Horace Williamson, Ohio state examiner of chauffeurs, granting a license to George Thole, 23, a deaf and dumb auto driver, declared:

"I consider Thole one of the best chauffeurs in Cincinnati, because of the marvellous quality of his skin that enables him to detect sounds that a regular ear will miss."

Thole has proved that he can get along without ears. I had him run on street car tracks and, more quickly than my ears could hear, Thole's sensitive physical organism detected the approach of a car from behind.

"We tried him on a car with an engine that missed once in a while, and he knew there was trouble every time. He knows the difference between a vibration from an auto horn and that of a street car."

The Poor Fellow

My clothes were slick and threadbare but I had an invitation out to dinner with a young lady. I took my three old suits, all that I possessed, except one blue coat, down to a three-cent shop and traded them for a pair of blue trousers.

The next morning I wore them up to a chemical research laboratory, where I was doing some private work, so was alone. The thought struck me that they needed attention, so I grabbed them off and put my only pair of trousers in the sterilizing oven. Calmly sitting there awaiting the proper temperature, I heard pitty-pat sounds approaching my door. There was absolutely no haven of escape but the big refrigerator. As I backed into that a faint damsel came into the laboratory. She came in and sat down.

Imagine poor me in the refrigerator in B.V.D.'s and my only pair of trousers in an oven that were rapidly reaching the burning point. When my nervous nostrils began to perceive the stench of my last pair of trousers I could hear it no longer and peeped my head around the refrigerator door, as sure as the fair one that if she would but leave me a few minutes I might rescue the remains of my necessary apparel.

TOKE UP YOUR STOMACH

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion without rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way then to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood.

If your digestion is off and your blood is thin there can be no question about it. You need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the condition of your blood, use care in the selection of your diet and the stomach trouble will take care of itself.

Stomach trouble is debilitating. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and build up the weakened system generally. Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating pre-digested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

A free book will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own doctor sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or a box will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of fifty cents.

The Death of Anni

He lay upon his bed of beaten gold and called for music, and they brought it him.

First they essayed the songs he loved of old.

Of love, of laughter, with set features grim.

He started up: "Nay, play no more of those."

I want no songs of laughter or repose!

"Let them play war songs, that I used to chant"

Upon the battlefield when hated foes

Were clashing on our spears! No recreant

In all our ranks was found; the battle's close

Saw many fallen, lying where I lie. Play faster, you! I will not, must not die!

"Play faster, faster!" So they played a while.

Madly, tumultuously; and on his face

There came a smile, a fierce and savage smile.

Exultant, like a hunter in the chase. A warrior in the fight. The music

And Anni whispered to the white-faced priest:

"Let there be songs like these beside my grave."

I want no chants of sad funeral kind.

No solemn hymns; but carols loud and brave.

That ring like sword on shield, that seek to find

The bold heart beating there so strong

So it found—me. Play on! But silence fell.

OUTING AT NO. CHELMSFORD

At the annual outing of the mill scouers in North Chelmsford, Saturday afternoon, the Silesia mills baseball team defeated the George C. Moore Scouring mill team by the score of 20 to 4.

The pitching of H. Hiley of the Moore team was the feature of the game. Following the sports, a dinner was served. About 100 employees of the mills attended the outing.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Another well-balanced high-grade list of vaudeville entertainers will combine in making this week's offering at D. F. Keith's theatre one of unusual excellence. The program includes all of the good things that go in the making of the right sort of amusement for lovers of sane, sensible and wholesome entertainment. A fact that reflects creditably on the judgment of the management in the selection of its weekly bills. At the front is the Lowell troupe of vaudeville artists in their novel 20 minute presentation entitled "Around the Compass." The act is unique in its kind, and has a feature that is new and novel in its kind. The troupe consists of a couple of exceptionally clever dancers and singers, while the Neary Brothers balance up their efforts to keep the audience in a constant state of interest. Miss Webb possesses a magnificent singing voice, while Conley is a pianist of exceptional ability. Brown, Harris and Brown are a trio of entertainers that rank with the best that the present-day vaudeville stage provides. They sing well, dance cleverly and tell stories in a manner that can't help proving popular. "Merrion" is a musical comedy sketch by Barto and Clark that should meet with the approval of all, and Miss Venita Gould in impersonations and mimicry of a new sort is scheduled to appear. Her wonderful success of the past year. Miss Gould's impersonations of such well known stage characters as Anna Held, Madame Nazimova, George Cohan, are done with such cleverness as to bring her approbation from all. The two Carbons are billed as "phlegmatic gymnasts." Their acts carries with it a series of novel phases, with sufficient humor to make it enjoyable throughout and Fred Weber & Co., ventriloquist extraordinary, presents a short sketch called "At the Stage Door." Besides the above attractions the management will offer the 15th chapter of "Gloria's Romance" with Miss Billie Burke featured in the central part of this really wonderful picture story. This feature will continue throughout the week.

Because of the unusual demand for seats experienced last week the management urges patrons to make their reservations early and thus avoid disappointment. Hundreds of theatre-goers failed to secure their seats early last week and were forced to accept what few that were left. Avoid this.

Woman so weak could not sleep

Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sleep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always." — Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 54, North Oxford, Mass.

Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition. Hundreds of such letters as Mrs. Marco's are being published in the newspapers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and every letter is genuine, truthful, and designed to help other women.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Weaving a web of romance about the commonplace of a big city, the whole of it done in a humorous and satirical manner for which the Lowell Opera House will be seen for the first time in this city at the Lowell Opera House when it is produced this week by the famous players. It is a story of Chicago and has the tang of the great city combined with the wiles of love rampant and dramatic reverses. It portrays vividly what might easily happen, what has indeed doubtless transpired times without number in close approach to the story, and the setting of Clark street bridge in Chicago and the cheap boarding house district of the city by the lake.

"Rolling Stones" tells of two young men, who from an extreme degree of impoverishment and desperation make a rapid rise to fortune on the principal that the world owes everyone a living if they have the nerve to take it. Jericho W. Braden takes over the business of Mr. Hewitt, a manufacturer of candy, on the death of the latter, on the proviso in his uncle's will that Braden should marry the testator's niece. It was stipulated, however, that the wedding should take place provided the girl was willing to marry. Braden, being already married, goes to Chicago to carry out the will's provision, and takes a room in a boarding house under an assumed name. The boarding house is kept by the "right" aunt and there 'meets' a youth with nerve, but no funds, who is being evicted. A railroad wreck at Omaha leads to fears that the much valued Braden is on board, and has lost his life. This gives the impoverished youth an idea. He tries "sneaking up" a passerby on the Clark street bridge only to find that the victim is penniless. The two join forces of offence and defence and the stray youth is pushed to the front as the much sought Braden, the real Braden, enjoys the fact knowing that the "girl" will solve his problem by marrying the impostor, wealthy or no wealth. The plan of "rolling stones" is splendidly carried out until Hewitt's lawyer begins to be suspicious of the young men who are seemingly making such a success of the business. The series of incidents which follow make the play the great success that it is and how Buck Ryder and Dave Fulton succeed in a deed wonderfully and beautifully told. Ivan Miller, Inez Ragan, James Hayden, Rose Morrison, James Gallagher, Frank Wright, Mildred Vincent, David Shirley, David Baker, Paul Courtene, Reena Merrill, Ernest East and other members of the company who have already made themselves great favorites with the theatre patrons of Lowell will be seen in the various characters and Director Frank Wright will offer a splendid scenic production.

Secure seats early and arrange to see the attraction as early in the week as possible. These seats are well to place names on the subscription list now and have the same seats held for the same performance each week. If you miss "Rolling Stones" it will be your biggest disappointment of the season.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Old and crooked-legged, bent and bleary-eyed, the pitiful figure of the hundred-year-old, feeble old man, stumbles in his delirium, reaching blindly for support, he brushes against a Mexican who savagely snatches the old man to one side and passes. Painfully ludicrous are the feeble wretch's struggles to prevent his collapse and as the spectators sympathize, they are aroused to a new interest in the character played so splendidly and dramatically by the notable Dustin Farnum, is seen coming down the street, clutching his stick, and making his approach when he sees the sufferer and the call of the distressed. Great but strong hands lift the fallen one, thrusting his stick under his arm, and the understanding that here is a true friend, and in the upward questioning look to the noble face which bends above him is expressed the change. This play will be shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Also shown in five acts on the first half of the week program at the Merrimack Square theatre is "The Stronger Love," featuring the adorable Vivian Martin in the principal role. The "Stronger Love" is a most wonderful picture. The tonic of the fragrant pines seems to be instilled into this picture. The signs of the body peels and mountain climb of the primitive feudal Kentucky form a world very different from the city's streets. Permeating all this picture is the tranquillity of their lives, their utter freedom from the feverish scramble of city life and of a peace that passes understanding. In this out-of-the-world life, the South Sea Islands, Vivian Martin, the dainty mountain girl lives a romance fascinating with it having elusive charm.

Note well that Martin will appear in "The Stronger Love" during the next three days, and not in "The Big Sister" as advertised in one of the local papers.

Four excellent pictures which will also be presented at this theatre on the next three days, starting with today's performance are the same ones which are being shown in the other theatres of the city. These pictures are now happening in the world today. Do not miss this—the best of all pictures ever presented at this theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE

A powerful drama of the northwest, the red-blooded deeds, in which heroism and drama are in the foreground, with a charming romance thrown in, is offered in "Fathers of Men," the Vitaphone picture shown at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow. Starring in this play is Robert Edison, whose versatility is called upon, because he has to play two different types in the production. The father is a hard-boiled, outgoing scene, and as the grown-up son in the later scenes. As usual, Mr. Edison gives a highly creditable performance, and he is fully assisted by Naomi Childers, Vitaphone's pretty and capable leading woman, little Bobby Connolly, the seven-year-old wonder, William Hampton, who directed the picture, and a score of other well known and admired Vitaphone players. Nothing to enhance the realism of this remarkable picture has been overlooked and the finished result is a wonder of beautiful scenery, splendid setting, and a plot, beyond compare with any other picture of the kind. It is an exceptionally strong attraction. Other fine pictures, few of which have been shown in Lowell, will be completed in the remarkable performance of the week at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow.

OWL THEATRE

Edison's latest, one of America's foremost actors, will be seen at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow in the big feature attraction "The Upheaval of the Metro release." In this new picture, there is a real, which few stars could handle and it calls for the widest versatility, ranging from comedy to tragedy, and the picture is a masterpiece of the art. It is a production for some time, and heading it is Marguerite Skirving, one of the most beautiful and gifted women of the stage. The "Upheaval" deals with politics and the inside workings of an average sized city. It tells of a young college man, whose father is a member of congress, who is elected to the senate determines to enter politics, and as determined to be true to the teaching of his dead mother and to use his wisdom and force of character. He is not given any credit for his attainment and it is taken for granted both by the public and by the press that he will be a grafter, just as his father was. Soon after his election he was successful in having a bill passed which was a direct slap at the politician. Still he received no credit and the press called him a grafter and warned the public against what they called his hypocrisy. How he finally deceived the people of his city that he was not following in his father's footsteps and that he was not using his office for grafting purposes and that he would do all in the world to atone for what his father had done. These interviews with a pretty love story form one of the most pleasing photoplays ever produced.

In addition to this feature, "The Story of the Missing Van-Horn," the first picture play in the new leased Fairfax serial will also be presented. This is the first showing of this famous serial in Lowell and since its first presentation in Boston it has met with unprecedented success. It is a story of love, letters written to Beatrice Fairfax, the famous big sister of all lovers, Grace Darling and Harry Fox, two well known movie stars who are playing the leading roles. Other high class attractions will also be presented at the Owl today and tomorrow.

MAY BE HARTFORD MAN

Belief That Body Found Floating in Merrimack River is That of Frank Hamilton of Hartford.

The body of a man found floating in the Merrimack river at Lawrence Saturday is supposed to be that of Frank Hamilton of Hartford, Conn. who had come to this city for the purpose of visiting his father whom he believed to be ill in this city.

A search of the pockets of the drowned man resulted in the finding of a card bearing the name of Frank Hamilton, Hartford, Conn. Capt. Atkinson of the local police department, last night got in touch with the police of Hartford, who stated that Hamilton had been employed as a brakeman on the N.Y. & H. railroad, but that he had left there to come to Lowell to visit his father who was ill.

200 GO ON STRIKE IN LAWRENCE PAPER MILL

LAWRENCE, Sept. 11.—Two hundred employees of the Champion International Paper Co. plant here went on a strike today for an eight hour day. They claim that their present hours are 13 for the night shift and 11 for the day shift are too long. At the mill it was stated that all the machinery is in operation and that the officials "were not worrying."

MAN AND TWO CHILDREN FOUND DEAD IN BED

FITCHBURG, Sept. 11.—John Wood and his two children, Laurel, aged eight years, and Henry, aged six years, were found dead in bed from gas poisoning when Mrs. Wood went to call them yesterday. The gas jets in the room were wide open and the doors and windows were stuffed with clothing. The coroner's report of the room would indicate that Mr. Wood carefully planned his suicide and the death of his children, according to the police. The children returned home from a vacation last night and Mrs. Wood declared that her husband asked that they be allowed to sleep with him. Previous requests of a similar nature were refused, the said, because of her husband's strange actions, and a fear that the children would be harmed, but last night she gave her consent. The gas apparently was turned on soon after the little ones had fallen asleep. When the three victims were discovered this morning, physicians were summoned and attempted to resuscitate them, but without success.

LITTLE ADS FOR THIRTY PEOPLE

Designed to Place Before the Public the Merchandise, Craftsmanship and Special Service Offered by Exclusive Concerns That are Not Generally Advertised
A series of "Little Ads," arranged under their respective titles for ready reference, devoted to the interests of everybody. In other words, a sort of Daily Market Meeting Place for Buyers and Sellers, telling of Good Things to Eat, to Wear and to Enjoy, and serving as a Business Barometer and Trade Indicator. These Adlets will place you in touch with live, progressive merchants who have special bargains to offer. They will aid you in economical buying. Will sell and exchange things for you. Will find competent help for you. Will assist you in obtaining a lucrative position. Find buyers for your house, lot, farm, furniture, your store, your lease, your equity. They work day and night with resistless persistence. We want you to read them every day. Make them your business and household companion, because they will help you, and more important than all, you may feel assured these advertisers are worthy of your confidence, or they would not be permitted to use the columns of The Sun. On this page will also be found Probate and other legal notices.

THROWN UNDER AUTO

Mr. and Mrs. Tyrrell have narrow escape in auto mishap on Fairmount street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Tyrrell of 316 Fairmount street and a lady passenger had a narrow escape from being seriously injured late Saturday afternoon when the machine in which they were riding turned turtle on Fairmount street. Mrs. Tyrrell was thrown from the car, but fortunately escaped with a few scratches on her face and body. The women were only slightly bruised.

The slow rate of speed at which Mr. Tyrrell was driving his expensive car, the fact that no one was seriously hurt. The car was traveling about 10 miles an hour at the time. The women were thrown away from the machine but Mr. Tyrrell, who was held by the wheel, was caught underneath. Rescues of the victim were quickly effected. The car and he were quickly extinguished.

MATRIMONIAL

Ralph Lewis Shepard and Miss Ruth Colman Hull were married late Saturday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Hull, 15 Oakland street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. H. A. Barker, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride wore a white crepe de chine with Chantilly lace and pearl trimmings. She wore a veil fastened with pearls and carried white roses. Her maid of honor was Mrs. Frank B. Hull, who was attired in a Georgeanne crepe over white satin. The flower girl was Miss Frances Morgan, the best man was Walter N. Sherwell. The couple will make their home at 23 Grace street.

street in order to avoid the crowd, but a number of men followed and were making it lively for the officer when Officer Briggs put in an appearance and assisted. When the patrol arrived, more resistance was offered and as a result Auguste Taverina, Joseph Gomez and Manuel Aguerre were also placed under arrest. When arraigned in court this morning, Taverina was fined $5 and the other three were each fined $15.

Larceny From Department Store

Saturday afternoon, Inspector Walsh and Sergt. Petrie were called to the store of the A. G. Pollard Co. and placed Catherine Speddy under arrest, it being alleged that she stole a pair of shoes valued at $1. When brought before the court this morning, she entered a plea of not guilty and at her request the case was continued until Thursday.

Later in the afternoon, Court Officer John Dwyer was called to the Pollard store and placed Mary Dumas under arrest, she having stolen 20 yards of lace. In court this morning, she admitted her guilt and was ordered to pay a fine of $12.

Broke Into Freight Car

Bernard Stott and Frank Marsh were charged with breaking and entering a freight car of the Boston & Maine railroad and the larceny therefrom of one lubricant valued at $15. Two inspectors of the value of $15 and ten valves, Marsh was also charged with breaking and entering a freight car and the larceny therefrom of one lubricant valued at $15. The case was continued until Saturday.

Judge Saw Crap Shooters

Edward F. Hart was arrested by Patrolman Bagley on the North common last night, the latter breaking up a game of craps which was going on in the backyard. There were eight present and the only one that the officer was able to get was Hart. He claimed that he was playing, but he admitted to the officer that he had been playing for some time and that he was a source of annoyance to people who had occasion to pass through the common. Hart was ordered to pay a fine of $5.

Lightless Vehicle

Thomas H. Chin was charged with violating the automobile law by not having the required number of lamps on his automobile lighted while passing through Bridge street about 11:30 o'clock on the night of August 31. Chin had a copy of the automobile law in his possession but when he started to inform the court what his rights were, Judge Laurent told him that the laws he referred to were of the 1911 vintage while the laws he was being tried under were dated 1915. Patrolman Kenney who made the complaint said that he stopped Chin to stop but the latter refused to do so and when he was finally brought to a stop none of the lights were going, but were later turned on. Chin was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

George Richardson was driving a wagon through Lawrence street on the 29th of August and owing to the fact that there was no light on the vehicle was summoned to court. After entering a plea of guilty he was fined $2.

Trivial Assault

James Redkin was charged with assault and battery on an unknown person in Thordike street Saturday night. Patrolman Jerome Cullen said that as he was passing by the house he saw Redkin strike a man but the latter refused to enter a complaint. The defendant was fined $2.

Disturbed the Peace

Antonio Pereira and Joseph Pereira got into a mixup Saturday night and were making matters lively for a score or more spectators when Patrolman J. T. Kelley and Herbert Goldrick but in an apparent effort to bring before the court this morning each entered a plea of guilty and were ordered to pay fines of $10 each.

Other Offenders

George Portnoff was sent home the first time Saturday night by Patrolman Arthur Brewster but he did not heed the warning of the officer and finally he was placed under arrest and when being brought to the patrol box used abusive language. Just for that it cost him $10 in court this morning.

There was the usual number of Saturday and Sunday drunks, 15 offenders being released by the probation officer before the opening of court. A fifth offender was sent to the state farm and another man who had been before the court for the 15th time was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Another offender was given a suspended sentence in the house of correction and several others were allowed to go after paying fines.

Jeremiah J. Day, who claims Chelsea as his home, was released from the house of correction Saturday night after serving two months, but he had enjoyed freedom but a short time when he was placed under arrest. He was given 24 hours to get out of the city and if he fails to obey the order of the court he will be sent to the house of correction for three months.

Charles Alvarez charged with assault and battery on Abraham Crossman, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $12.
